MISS JULIA O'DONOGHUE, GAELIC VOCALIST

By Gaelic League of Ireland at Associate Hall—Program to be Repeated Tonight

The three envoys of the Gaelic league of Ireland, Pionan McCollum, Donal O'Connor and Michael J. O'Connor, appeared before a large audience of Irish people in Associate hall last evening and told of the work that the Gaelic league is doing toward the revival of the Irish language, Irish industries, games and pastimes. The meeting was the first "Feis" to be held here and it is to be an annual affair.

There was also an interesting group of Irish dancers, singers, pipers and storytellers.

Mayor O'Donnell presided and introduced Mr. McCollum by telling of the great work Ireland was doing in her effort to save her ancient language from extinction.

Mayor O'Donnell's Remarks

We are assembled this evening to participate in a modern revival of a very ancient festival inaugurated by Oileann Fodla, and high, or-high king of Ireland, about 800 B. C.—the Tara Feis. The word feis, meaning parliament, convention or festival, the original feis was a meeting of the governing body which made the laws. Beside discussing the affairs of state the feis including

FIRST COUNT OF IMPEACHMENTConviction on Other Twelve Counts
Not Necessary to Remove Judge From Bench

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—A verdict of guilty was voted by the senate, on the first count of the impeachment charge against Judge Robert W. Archbald of the commerce court that he had wrongfully influenced Erie railroad officials to grant him an option on the Katydid culm dump. Conviction on the other 12 counts is not necessary to remove Judge Archbald from the bench. The vote on the first count was 68 against Judge Archbald and five in his favor. The senate then proceeded to vote on the other 12 articles of the impeachment, although the conviction upon the first is sufficient to remove the judge from the bench.

DR. SIMPSON CONFERS WITH MAYOR
RELATIVE TO BUILDING HOSPITALMayor Receives Letter Requesting Information Anent Charter—School
Masters to Meet Wednesday

Dr. C. E. Simpson of this city, district inspector for the state board of health, is in receipt of a letter from the state board of health relative to an isolation hospital in this city. Consequently he conferred with the mayor this morning as to the possibility of the city erecting such an institution, and also to find out if possible the attitude of the council in reference to the city co-operating with other surrounding towns for the erection of the said institution. The mayor's reply was that his impression is that the council will take steps in the near future toward the erection of a hospital and he felt they would favor allowing nearby towns to send patients to the hospital, providing they paid for their treatment.

Requisition

Commissioner Barrett has made requisitions for the fire department for a carload of oaks and one of straw, and he is also asking for 10,000 feet of one-inch galvanized iron pipes for services during the year.

How is the Charter?

George B. Burd, chairman of the committee on printing of the New York state senate, himself of Buffalo, N. Y., is seeking information relative to the new form of government in this city and accordingly he has sent a letter to Mayor O'Donnell, asking the latter to furnish him with the desired information. In the course of his letter he states that the Buffalo people have been endeavoring for two years to have a new charter in their city without success. Each time the bill has passed the senate, but failed in the assembly. He said the movement is repeatedly confronted by statements of failure elsewhere of the new form of government, and he also asks our magistrate to answer the following questions:

10—What is the attitude of the majority of your people toward the commission form as compared with preceding charters, and is there any disposition to return to the old form?

20—Is it generally conceded by your people that the city government is more efficient and more economical?

30—What chief advantage would you specify as resulting from the adoption of the commission plan?

Civil Service Examinations

City Messenger Monahan was notified this morning that on Friday, Jan. 17, civil service examinations will be held at city hall for the following positions: 47 clerks, 26 janitors, and 6 foremen; 79 positions in all. The notice was sent by Joseph J. Reilly, chief examiner.

THOMAS AND ELDRIDGE

In Main Bout Here Next
Friday Night

In compliance with the wishes of many of the members of the Lowell Social and Athletic club, particularly those who reside in the suburbs, Matchmaker Gardner has decided to put on three bouts this week. Heretofore four bouts were given, but as all generally went the distance, the show was late in being completed. Several times many were obliged to walk home. On next Friday night three matches will be staged and all look good from the road. In the main event Joe Thomas, formerly of California, but now a full-fledged resident of Lowell, and one of the cleanest fighters who ever pulled on a pair of knits will clash with Battling Gumbert Elldridge, a white hope from Boston. Elldridge is a big man, and while rather young at the game, has met a number of well known performers. He is said to have a wallop like the kick of a mule, and when he gets it over the referee generally counts ten over the other fellow. He is training for this week's bout and expects to cop. He is well acquainted with Thomas' reputation and realizes that a victory over Joe will bring him up with the good ones. Thomas started training last week and at present is in good shape. He will continue his daily work-outs and expects to be in the pink of condition by Friday. The bout is scheduled to go 12 rounds. In the semi final of eight rounds, Henry Myers, of Charlestown, who several weeks ago received a decision over Tommy Doyle, at the local club will meet Young Delmont of Lawrence. Myers has been at the game a number of years, during which time he has met some of the cleverest men in the country. He is said to have a hard bitter. He was at the club last week and informed the matchmaker that he is in great shape and that he will be fit for this week's show. Delmont's reputation is well known and he can always be depended upon to put up a good exhibition. The preliminary bout this week ought to be one of the best ever given in Lowell. The principals are Young Delmont, Freddie Maguire, George, and Kid George. They appeared in one of the "prelims" last week and their offering was a hummer. The entire six rounds were fast and both showed remarkable speed. At the completion of the bout, a draw was announced. Both immediately requested that they be rematched. This was done and now both are in training for their second meeting.

CHANGES IN TAX SYSTEM

Recommended in New York by Mayor

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Radical changes in New York city's tax system, whereby nearly a score of new sources of revenue are proposed to help meet city expenses without increasing the burden on the rent payer, have been recommended to Mayor Hays, it was learned today by a special committee which he appointed to study this problem more than two years ago.

Some of the most striking proposals are taxes on the unearned increment of real estate, on public advertising signs, on every horse-drawn vehicle, an automobile double the tax now levied by the state and given half of the proceeds to the city and non-exemption of churches for local improvement. About $4,000,000 would be added to the city's income next year if the plan were adopted and in ten years the increase would amount to $10,000,000. The committee declared it favored abolishing the personal property tax eventually and placing the burden of local government on these forms of property which represent values created by the community.

DESCENT ON CRAP GAME

20 Escaped in Raid in Boston

BOSTON, Jan. 13.—"The Bridge of Sighs," a passageway running from Society to Eberle Hall in Union square, Somerville, is called, furnished an easy means of escape for 20 young men, apparently trapped last night in the latter building by the police, who made a descent on a crap game that was in progress.

The raid was the result of a complaint made to the police by one of the players, who claimed to have lost a good sized roll of money. Chief Ken-dall detailed Inspector Kennedy and Patrolman Daniel G. Simmons to get evidence.

Pear Through Keyhole
According to Society hall, which is on the third floor of the building known as the old Masonic building, and which faces Union square, and peering through the keyhole, the officers saw a number of young men engaged in the crap game. Other officers joined the party and it was decided to force an entrance into the hall. The hall is used by secret societies and the big outer door refused to yield to the snappers of the police.

The noise at the door was a signal to the men on the inside that it was time to get under cover. The bridge is reached by opening a window in either Society or Eberle hall, and walking across. The police thought that they had the crowd secure in Eberle hall, but much to their surprise when they entered and entered only four were found hiding. They were taken to the police station in the patrol auto and booked on a charge of being present. Ball was furnished for each.

Mystery in Escape
How the remainder escaped the police are not a lost to know. Some think that they made their escape down the fire escape while the police were gathering to surround the building. A number of overcoats were found in the room where the game was being played, but were not taken by the police. A pack of cards and two dice were captured by the police.

Anniversary of Birth
Miss Alice Genest, daughter of ex-Councilman Arthur Genest, was agreeably surprised yesterday afternoon, when a number of her friends called at her home, in Gershon avenue and on the occasion of the 15th anniversary of her birth, presented her a gold locket and chain. The presentation address was read by Miss Iermina Martin, while the gift was presented by Miss Marie Genest.

Refreshments were served and a musical program was rendered, among these taking part being: Misses Blanche Janvier, Leontine Parent, Emerentienne Massicotte, Iermina Martin, Alice Marchand, Anna Lafole, Marie Ange Bouchard and Alice Gellinas. The merry gathering broke up at a seasonable hour wishing the hostess the many returns of the day.

VICTORY FOR R. R. CLERKS

9 Hour Day and Raise of
15 Cents

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 13.—Succeeding weeks' active campaigning during which a strike was expected at any moment the nearly 3000 freight clerks of the New Haven road, including many women, were late Saturday night guaranteed concessions from the railroad company aggregating 30 per cent. of their demands.

The most essential request was for a nine-hour day. They battled hard for this, but at the start were given to understand that this request was unreasonable and next to impossible. The concessions number nearly 55, chief among which is a flat rate wage increase of 15 cents a day, which makes the weekly increase more than $1 for each person.

It is estimated that the minimum wage rate for clerks under the new regime will be fully $60 a month. Another significant concession is a two-weeks vacation with pay to each clerk each year. The new rule covers every station on the system.

In selecting vacations the seniority rule will prevail. Much of the credit for the outcome is given to Vice Grand Pres. James J. Forester, who took up the matter, aided by the local committee, and represented the employees in the conference with the New Haven management.

For several years he has had a large interest in the Newark club of the International league, which he sold last fall.

RAPID GROWTH IN EXPORTS

From United States to South America
—Have Increased From $32,000,000 in 1902 to $138,000,000 in 1912

Exports from the United States to South America have grown from 28 million dollars in 1902 to approximately 138 million in 1912. The percentage of gain in the exports to South America is much greater than that in exports to any other grand division of the world. To Europe the exports in 1902 were 936 million dollars and in 1912, approximately 1,450 million, the figures for December being not yet available; to North America, in 1902, 204 million dollars and in 1912 approximately 575 million; to Asia and Oceania, in 1902, 55 million dollars and in 1912, about 312 million; to Africa, in 1902, 36 million dollars, and in 1912 approximately 37 million; while to South America the exports in 1902 were 28 million dollars, and in 1912 were approximately 138 million dollars in value. This export from the United States to Europe have increased about 50% in the period from 1902 to 1912; those to North America, 175%; to Asia and Oceania, about 120%; and to South America, nearly 300%.

Turning to the other side of the account, the imports from South America show a gain in the period in question of a little more than 100%. The figures having been in 1902, 109 million dollars and in 1912 approximately 223 million. From Europe the imports increased from 514 million dollars in 1902 to approximately 956 million in 1912; from North America, from 173 million dollars in 1902 to about 311 million in 1912; those to Asia and Oceania, from 161 million dollars in 1902 to approximately 254 million in 1912; and those from Africa, from 124 million dollars in 1902 to approximately 24 million in 1912. Thus the percentage of gain in the imports from South America is also greater than that in imports from any other of the grand divisions, though not nearly so great as the percentage gain in the exports to that section of the world.

Manufactures form the bulk of this rapidly growing export trade with South America. The value of manufactures exported to South America in the fiscal year, 1912 amounted to 122,5 million, manufactures thus forming about 90% of the total exports to South America. Of iron and steel manufactures alone, the value of the exports to South America in 1912 was more than the value of all exports to South America ten years earlier, the figures for iron and steel manufactures exported to South America in the fiscal year 1902 having been $28,831,854, while the total value of all articles from the United States to that grand division in 1902 was but $38,222,806. Among the other important manufactures exported to South America in 1912 were

The growth in our exports to South America occurs chiefly in the trade with Argentina, Brazil, and Uruguay. The exports to Argentina, which a decade ago amounted to a little less than $10,000,000 for 1912 show a total of about 52 million; those to Brazil, which in 1902 were a little more than 11 million dollars, will for 1912 show a total of about 40 million; those to Chile, which in 1902 amounted to less than 4 million dollars, will show for 1912 a total of about 15 million; and those to Uruguay, which in 1902 were but 1 1/2 million dollars in value, will show a total of nearly 5 million dollars for 1912, the totals for the calendar year 1912 being in each case estimated upon the basis of eleven months' returns already tabulated by the statistical division of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

Much Speculation as to Whether Those Responsible for Panama Canal Shall be Rewarded by America

Now that the Panama canal, greatest of man's engineering accomplishments, is virtually a fact, what shall be done for the men who have made it possible and have created it? Shall they be further illustrations of the axiom that "republics are ungrateful," or shall the greatest republic on earth recognize their worth and their merit? The offering of the post of governor of the canal zone to Col. George W. Goethals is not a sufficient discharge of American obligation, in the opinion of many patriotic men.

The question concerns, of course, all of the men who have labored with brain and brawn to bring the canal to completion. From Colonel Goethals, head of the entire work, down to the humblest West Indian laborer, all have done their share. It is expected that congress will make provision for them. But there are two men who are deserving of special consideration, according to the general opinion in congress and out. They are Colonel Goethals and Colonel William C. Gorgas, chief medical officer of the canal work.

To the former belongs the task of supervising the tremendous works of the canal; to the latter accrues the honor of keeping the men entrusted with its execution.

Whether or not congress will make Goethals a general or a major general on the regular army list is undecided at this writing. Representative Mann of Illinois, who has devoted much time and attention to Panama canal questions and who visited the isthmus recently, is warmly in favor of making Goethals a full general.

By the untimely death in military affairs it should be understood that the rank of general (without any adjective) is the highest possible office in the American army and has been held by only four men in the 135 years of the nation's history. They were Washington, Grant, Sherman and Sheridan.

Like Admiral Dewey, Goethals will have all sorts of rights and privileges if congress makes him a general. Among other privileges, he will enjoy that of being exempt from retirement for age.

But—and here comes the rub—Goethals is not primarily a fighting man, although he is a West Point graduate and has served in the army. First and foremost, he is an engineer. Digging the big canal, "making the dirt fly," in the picturesque phrase of Col. Roosevelt, has not been a military job but a task for an engineer. So there have been subsurface murmurs to the effect that making Goethals a general is not an appropriate reward for him.

In some degrees the same argument applies to Gorgas. He is a military doctor whose primary aim is to preserve life, not to destroy it. Making him general of any rank—no one has yet proposed putting him on a par with Goethals—would not be appropriate, say some of the American fighting men.

Colonel Gorgas is the elder of the two men, having been born in 1855, while Goethals is four years younger. Gorgas is not a West Point man. He joined the army medical service after he was graduated from the University of the South and the medical school of New York university. He held the rank of major when the Spanish war came and was put in charge of the sanitary work in Havana, eliminating the yellow fever that had been the scourge of centuries in the Cuban capital. Congress recognized the value of his work and advanced him to the rank of colonel assistant surgeon general of the army by a special act in 1903. A year later he was made chief sanitary officer of the Panama canal. He is an Alabamian.

Colonel Goethals is a northerner and a native of Brooklyn. He was graduated from the Military academy in 1880 and was chief of engineers of the army when the Spanish-American war broke out. Later he served on the board of fortifications and in February, 1907, became chief canal engineer.

STEAMER RAN ASHORE

Freight Vessel Herman Winter Grounded

BOSTON, Jan. 13.—The freight steamer Herman Winter, which left for New York late Saturday night, ran ashore on the spit inside of Nix's Mate at midnight, during a thick fog. She remained hard and fast until shortly before 3 yesterday afternoon when nine tugs succeeded in floating her at high tide.

The vessel went ashore stern on, and at low tide the entire stern and the propellers were showing out of the shallow water. The bow was headed toward Boston as though the craft was bound in, instead of going out. The officers refused to make a statement and it could not be learned how the vessel went ashore in such a manner.

MOTHER AND SON DEAD

LISBON FALLS, Me., Jan. 13.—Stricken with pneumonia, Mrs. Maria Coombs died Saturday night at midnight, and her son, William C. Coombs, died yesterday morning.

Mrs. Coombs was 60 in Lisbon 14 years ago, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Gould. She was the widow of John H. Coombs. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Cornelia Fessenden and Mrs. Mary Hollis. She was a member of Pioneer Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star.

Her son, William C. Coombs, was 47 years old, and had been ill less than 24 hours with pneumonia. He began business as a tailor, but of late had been in the real estate business.

Liner Had Wild Time

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Buffeted by a succession of storms, the French liner La Provence reached here yesterday from Havre with almost all her loose deck equipment swept away or damaged. Huge seas frequently flooded the decks and her 300 passengers were forced to remain below during much of the trip. One big combor tore away a section of deck rail and badly splintered other sections, and two big cable reels weighing a ton each were wrecked loose and swept along the decks.

AGAINST STREET SWITCHES

Pres. Rowley of the M. S. P. C. A. to Take Up Complaint of Drivers Against Union Railroad

BOSTON, Jan. 13.—Pres. Francis H. Rowley of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals will confer today with the officials of the Union freight railroad and protest against the street switches, which have cost the lives of several horses this winter.

Last week two horses had to be shot

REMARKABLE SUCCESS OF A NEW PILE TREATMENT

Introduced less than six months ago, over 1500 New England Druggists now recommending, selling and guaranteeing the English Hemorrhoid Treatment

It usually requires years to successfully introduce a new, untried article, but sometimes a product of real merit obtains a foothold with unexpected suddenness.

A few months ago, when a representative of the English Pharmaceutical Co. of New York, presented to the druggists of this city a new, entirely different treatment for hemorrhoids (piles)—the druggist said "No, we have all the old remedies we want—there are now too many on the market."

But when the character of the new treatment was explained, most all dealers saw that exceptional products had been offered and they did not hesitate long in buying.

"E-H-T" remedies are not patent medicines or "nostrums." They are compounded by the largest manufacturing chemists in the United States, of the purest and highest priced ingredients obtainable. In strict accordance with the prescriptions of a noted New York rectal specialist.

When one of our either the ointment, suppositories or constitutional tablets, extra boxes can be had at 50 cents each.

No person suffering with piles should fail to read the free book of the English Pharmaceutical Laboratories. It teaches one how to diagnose his or her own case and treat at home. Any druggist will supply you and will guarantee any purchase you make of the treatment.

because of broken legs from hoofs becoming wedged in street switches.

Saturday a delegation of drivers placed the matter up to the society, declaring that every other means had been exhausted to protect the horses. They requested Pres. Rowley to take the matter up on a basis of cruelty and it will be fought out along these lines.

The requests of the teamsters came on top of an investigation being made by the society of the same source of complaint. The society's unrelenting has several times of late been called to take away horses which have been injured in these switches.

Bishop Raps Gambling

BOSTON, Jan. 13.—The Rt. Rev. Charles D. Williams, Bishop of Michigan, speaking at the afternoon services at St. Paul's cathedral yesterday, declared that there was no spectacle more degrading, more abject, than a man with a will in him, hanging breathlessly upon the throw of the dice, the dealing of the cards, the running of a horse, the whirling of a wheel, the sway of a game or the fluctuations of the stock market.

The men that were meant to master fate, he declared, by such actions voluntarily surrendered their power and became abject weaklings of appetite.

Millersand Quits Cabinet

PARIS, Jan. 13.—Alexandre Millerand, who won a reputation at home and abroad as a great war minister, resigned from that office yesterday. M. Lebrun, minister of colonies, has been appointed minister of war and M. Besnard, Under Secretary of Finance, replaced M. Millerand.

The ministerial crisis was the direct outcome of the reinstatement of Lieut. Col. du Puy de Clam in the French Territorial Army. With the election of president occurring on Friday next, the political situation has become greatly confused, with indications pointing to a stirring week.

Couple Overcome at Fire

BOSTON, Jan. 13.—Samuel Gorringe and his wife Dora had a narrow escape from death by suffocation at their home, 142 Broadway, Chelsea, early yesterday morning. A fire which broke out in their store filled the premises with thick smoke. The couple occupied a room off the store. Patrolman John E. Parsons discovered the fire. He broke into the store and found the couple unconscious from the smoke.

Aided by the fire department and Patrolmen McKenzie and McGauley, the couple were quickly removed and revived. The fire started in some clothes under the counter of the store. The fire loss was $100.

LIVE WIRES AND MACHINE TEAMS

WON MATCHES
Lamson Rapids Defeated Lamson Machines and Mt. Groves Won From
Lincoln-Suro

There were two games played in the Heinze-Cartridge league Saturday night, one of which was close and exciting while the other was so one-sided that it proved to be anything but interesting. The game between the Live Wires and Testers was a walk-over for the former team which won all four points with comparative ease taking the game by a margin of 123 pins. Coughlin of the winning team was high man with a triple of 302 and his best single was 122. Although the scores in the game between the Machines and Heinze Machine were not large the game was close and well contested, the Heinze Machine winning three out of four points. None of the bowlers was able to reach the century mark for a single.

High scores were in order in the game between the Lamson Rapids and Lamson Machines, each team winning two points. The bowling of Stewart of the Machines was the feature of the game.

The game between the Mount Groves and Lincoln resulted in a victory for the former team.

A DISTINGUISHED UNDESIRABLE

Cipriano Castro, former president of Venezuela, has been spending an unhappy week on Ellis Island. He sought to enter this country under an assumed name, but government agents had kept him under close observation upon the other side, and his sailing was known as soon as he looked passage. Of course the case of General Castro is entirely out of the ordinary, for he is not an undesirable citizen in the common understanding of the term. He was virtually forced to abandon his office in Venezuela and flee from the country under pressure of the United States government, and for that reason there is no inclination to treat his case lightly now, especially when political conditions in Venezuela make it reasonable to believe that he has less desire to travel in this country than to plan another revolution from this point. His country once all but involved the United States in a foreign war, and has twice since called for diplomatic intervention under the Monroe Doctrine. Consequently our state department is justified in taking measures that will preserve its own interests as well as the peace of the little republic.

Castro has had a turbulent career. He was born in 1855, his parents being Spanish mestizos of the peasant class. He entered politics as soon as he could vote. He won his first battle when he was 31 years old. He fought with Andueza against Crespo, who rebelled against the government in 1892, and defeated the latter at Taribia. Crespo eventually won, however, and became president, whereupon Castro removed into Colombia and became a cattle raiser. When Andueza succeeded Crespo, Castro returned and paid him an official visit. It was not satisfactory, and Castro fled under an order of arrest. He started a revolution with only 60 men but at the end of three days had a force of 1500. He won a series of battles, entered the capital, and proclaimed himself supreme military leader. Eventually he was elected president, and ran the country to suit himself, though there were frequent uprisings. He amassed a great fortune, which he shrewdly banked in Europe, where he has been living of recent years. Now he has become tired of his holidays and wants to return to politics. But he has chosen the wrong route by which to do so.

MR. MUNSEY'S ARGUMENT

The plan advocated by Frank A. Munsey for the consolidation of the progressive and republican parties, to the end that the democrats may be defeated at some future time, has not been very cordially received by the leaders of either faction. Mr. Munsey's argument itself is open to question upon several points. He claims that Mr. Wilson will be a minority president because he received less votes than did Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt combined. From this he argues that the majority of voters did not want Mr. Wilson, and that he would not have been elected but for the split in the republican ranks.

Woodrow Wilson would have been elected in any event. There has not been an election in recent years where the conditions were more involved, but there could have been but one conclusion. Suppose, for example, that Mr. Taft's nomination had stood, with no progressive candidate in the field. Would the latter have accepted the situation? Not at all. There would have been a landslide to Mr. Wilson. Or suppose that the colonial had captured the Chicago convention after a bitter contest. Would the old-line republicans, who had fought him for weeks, contritely make his calling and election sure? They would have voted for the other candidate if for no other reason than to have prevented his election.

As to the analysis of the vote of the two defeated candidates, both Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt claimed democratic support in several states, owing to local conditions, but such a line-up would not have held had only the regular party nominations been made. Thousands of progressives voted for their candidate in the states where their party was strong because they believed that he would be elected, but their second choice was unquestionably Mr. Wilson. It is folly then to say that the latter is a minority candidate. Were a poll of the whole country taken today it would show beyond dispute that he is favored by a majority, whether or not they voted for him in the recent presidential election.

THE LOWELL DELEGATION

The Boston Herald remarks: "As the Lowell members go so goes the leadership of the caucus poll." And every other Boston newspaper has discovered that there is a Lowell delegation in the legislature since the balloting for a senatorial candidate began in the republican caucus. The conclusion from this fact is obvious. If the members from Lowell and the surrounding towns will stand together this year, they can easily put the Spindle City upon the political map again.

The democracy of Lowell has obtained and recognition during the past two years, prior to that republican influence had been practically wiped out, even when there was a republican governor and a republican majority in the Lowell delegation. The reason was that the members of house and senate did not pull together. There are many questions in which politics does not enter, and where all the Lowell members and their suburban associates can stand together. To do so will make this city a factor to be considered in legislative matters, but democrats must stand by their party politics as a party, despite the temptation now greater than ever to decide between republican factions.

One of the Boston department stores has been advertising a special sale of cotton cloth as "Made in Lawrence." Fully a third of the mechanical toys that went into American homes at Christmas were marked "Made in Germany." Why not a special trade mark for the mills of this city? "Made in Lowell" was a pass word that sold Merrimack print cloths and Middlesex flannels half a century ago. "Made in Lowell" has sold Massachusetts mills cottons to the tribes in the interior of Africa and Lowell Machine Shop equipment to the factories of the far south. Make use of the phrase, gentlemen. It has a value!

While the ocean liners that came into Boston during the past few days were all over-due, and reported weather of the worst kind in the passage over, the fishing fleet made its weekly return, bringing in 170,000 pounds of fresh fish caught during the same weather. The New England fisherman is one of the heroes who escaped public notice because he makes a business of facing dangers.

Seen and Heard

Speaking of heroes, we read about a dozen of them who attended a dance the other evening. No, the hall didn't catch on fire, and they didn't scorch their hired dress suits in their brave endeavors to rescue fair maidens. But—they danced with the fair maidens, and that means a lot when you consider that the dozen men were the only representatives of their sex in a gathering of two thousand females. Let's see, how many is that? Each man? One hundred and sixty-six, and two-thirds. However, the heroes had one consolation—it wasn't leap year.

Here's good luck to General Robaldo Jones, the valiant suffragette lady, who is soon to lead another march, this time to Washington. We hope the weather man will be more lenient than he was when the famous hike was taken along the banks of the American Rhine.

Helen Frick gave a theatre party the other evening to two hundred of her friends. It must be nice to be rich. Whenever we feel like entertaining, we invite our best friend to a select performance at Keith's, and there we get as good as money can buy.

Population of the United States is now put at $6,496,000. Total money in circulation per capita about $56. Lots of folk haven't got their $55 paid at this moment. Some figure sharp also reckon that about fifty-five persons have $56,496,000 each in New York. Well, they couldn't have it in a place where they would need it more.

Winter's key grip is still missing, but the other kind, which is attended with hot mustard baths and makes one feel as if he had been run through a stone crusher and that a Chinese orchestra was playing ragtime in his head—that kind is doing business right here.

The woman whose silver cat won a prize at the show insisted that most cats die at the age a girl becomes a debutante, but the exhibitor whose Angora took second honors said that even if a cat has nine lives it seldom lives more than sixteen or seventeen years. They decided to settle the argument by consulting an authority, and when they met again the woman who started it said she knew all about cats. She told her friend that there are seventeen veteran cats on record that have lived eighteen years, and that one sturdy pussy has survived since 1859. "In the home of a parson in the Norfolk parish of England. Red and sand-colored ones live longer than any others."

"Take my seat," said the red-checked little messenger boy with a bow to the little shopgirl as he got up from a place in a Merrimack square cafe. And the big man with the talkative fur coat, who had been the youngster's neighbor, unfolded his newspaper so he couldn't see the two old women who were hanging on straps right in front of his seat.

TOASTS

Here's to the woman with many a care. Who sits all day in an office chair. And at night, when her day's work is through, Goes home and finds more work to do. Gets up in the morning and cooks and scrubs. And wrestles around with laundry tubs. Yet the usual hour finds her smiling there.

Here's to the states where they let her vote. Oh, some get on by labor, in a patient plodding way. And some succeed by cleverness in what they do or say. And now and then a great career some body will begin. By close attention to the gentle art of "butting in."

How well we all recall the boy at school. By yawning out an answer when another started it. He drowned the real student's voice with swift and lusty din. And got a lot of picture cards because he "buted in."

Fate equalizes things until a share of chance remains. For sheer presumption in the race with honest brawn or brains. The world's most cherished prize some "dark horse" will often win. Because he recognized the time and place for "butting in."

STEEPLE TOP BLOWN OVER
Prevented From Falling in Westboro. However, by Rope—Had Been Sawed Off

WESTBORO, Jan. 13.—The top of the steeple on the First Congregational-Unitarian church, which workmen started to take down Saturday, was blown over by the high wind yesterday afternoon, but prevented from falling by an inch and a quarter rope attached to a beam extending from the steeple. When the upper section of the steeple, which was sawed off 15 feet from the top Saturday, but allowed to remain in position after being tightly fastened, was blown over it hung point downward and for some time looked as if it might fall and crash through the roof of the church.

Many people watched the unusual sight.

Sells Whiskey For Pie

CONNEAUT, O., Jan. 12.—It cost Sig Hahn, a Conneaut druggist, $1420 to sell about an ounce of whiskey to a woman who came into his store a few days ago.

The woman, a dry detective, asked for enough whiskey to make a mince pie, and the druggist complied. The detective at once swore out a warrant for his arrest.

Hahn was tried on four counts and pleaded guilty to each, being fined $150 on each count. He was also assessed $500, Dow-Alken tax, by the state.

ALICE AND MAY

Alice: "I see by the papers that Mayor Duane of Waltham is a practical suffragist."

May: "How's that?"

Alice: "Why his motto is: 'Jobs for Women,' and he has started out by appointing a woman superintendent of buildings, and another principal assessor."

May: "How horrible!"

Alice: "Why, May, what do you mean by such an expression? I think Mayor Duane is perfectly lovely to recognize our sex in such a nice way."

May: "That's all right about recognizing the sex, but suppose you were superintendent of buildings and were up at the health department stable job, and Commissioner Cummings says to you, with a bunch of male employees about, and the wind blowing sixty miles an hour: 'Miss Alice, go up the ladder after that load-carrier and see if the work is being done right.' Would you do it?"

Alice: "Or suppose you were riding down Merrimack street with him in his new Studebaker and it stopped right in the square, would you get out and crank the machine?"

May: "But Mr. Cummings is too much of a gentleman to ask such embarrassing things. I am confident that if I were superintendent of buildings, he would climb the ladders and crank the machine for me. I'd have to do it anyway, because I'd faint if I climbed a ladder, and I don't know the first thing about cranking an auto."

Alice: "Why, I can't even turn on a steam radiator. But I wouldn't be a candidate against Frankie Connor under any circumstances."

May: "I guess neither of us would be suited for a job like that, Alice. I wonder what the poor Waltham lady will do? Perhaps she is what you might call an honorary superintendent, and she'll sign papers, while a mere man does the hazardous part of the work."

Alice: "The hazardous part of the work, surely no woman's education ever included the construction of skyscrapers or the fire-proofing of tenements."

May: "I'm not saying that a woman couldn't learn these things if she had a mind to, but I'm sure I'd never care to bother my head about such problems."

Alice: "It would be fun to be an assessor though."

May: "What does an assessor have to do?"

Alice: "Why he—er—he goes around and puts a price tag on everything. If he says a thing is worth so much, it's got to be worth that much whether it is or not."

May: "That sounds like an easy job. But I didn't think an assessor assessed everything."

Alice: "Oh, yes, of course he does. Didn't you know that? Just think, it one of us was an assessor, what fun we could have assessing our friends' clothes. There's Kate's new set of furs—she says they cost $100, and I saw some every bit as good for $20, the other day. And then, Peggy's new hat, it never in the world cost $40. She caught it at a mark-down sale last week, and she paid $7.95 for it."

May: "How do you know that?"

Alice: "I've got a cousin on the trading stamp counter, and she saw the price of the hat on the slip. Peggy was always economical. She bought her hat on the day they gave double stamps—she got 155 stamps."

May: "You'd make a good detective, Alice. I guess you'd make a good assessor, too."

Alice: "I'd just love to be a detective. Honest. Of course, they have lady detectives in the big department stores to catch women shoplifters, but I wouldn't want to do anything as tame as that. I'd want to do more exciting and mysterious things like Sherlock Holmes. If I can't be a detective like him, I think I'll write a book sometime with a detective heroine who has all kinds of thrilling adventures. What would you use for your pen name if you were me?"

May: "Baroness Munchausen would suit you pretty well."

GOT STUCK IN CHIMNEY

Man Failed as a Santa Claus

Claus

NEWBURYPORT, Jan. 13.—Early yesterday morning the police were called upon to rescue John Lucey, aged 26, who essayed to do a Santa Claus act at his home on Caldwell street and got stuck in the chimney in the attempt.

Lucey had some trouble with one of the police officers shortly before that time and the officer told him that he would take him to the station if he did not go home. Lucey started for home, but had considerable to say, so the officer followed him a part of the distance.

Lucey imagined that the officer was still following him when he reached home, and so on going into the house he went upstairs, thence to the attic, climbed out through a skylight, and worked his way along the ridgepole to the chimney, which he mounted and slid down, fortunately for himself feet first.

It is one of the old-fashioned chimneys, divided into several parts, and as Lucey went down he got switched into a flue and stuck about on a level with the floor of the second story.

All desire to get away from his imaginary pursuers left him at this time and he called lustily for help. The cries were heard by the members of his family, but they were powerless to help him and they summoned the police.

Several officers responded and it took an hour's work to release him, and that was accomplished only by the use of picks and crowbars, as the officers had to tear away the bricks of the chimney, they being able to locate him by his cries and groans.

When he finally got out he was a sight, being covered with soot from head to foot. He did not appear to be injured any by his experience, so the officers took him to the police station, where a charge of drunkenness was put against him.

Lucey has but one arm, having lost the other about two years ago by falling under a train as he was attempting to get off. He had been released from the jail here only a few days ago, having served a term for drunkenness.

COLLINS DIES OF INJURIES

Dorchester Man Run Over By a Dray Passes Away—Driver Placed Under Arrest

BOSTON, Jan. 13.—John Collins, 70 years old, of 35 Everett street, Dorchester, who was run over by a heavy dray on Broadway, South Boston, Saturday night, died at the City hospital yesterday morning. Last night Frederick A. Waterman, the driver of the dray, was arrested on a charge of manslaughter. He will be arraigned in South Boston today.

Witnesses of the accident say that Collins, while standing on the sidewalk with his back to the street, suddenly became dizzy and fell backward just as the dray was passing.

On Saturday her mother, Mrs. Enos Ladue, visited Mrs. Wells for the first time. She presented her daughter with little remembrances. The mother and daughter settled down to family talk. It was decided that Mrs. Wells should be supplied with cloth and work basket so that she might pass her time making clothes for her children at home.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Jan. 13.—Mrs. Anna May Wells, confined in the Franklin county jail, charged with murder of her two young children, is ill. The confinement and trouble are telling upon her.

She requires the services of a physician.

en S. Cushing, in preparing the details of the defence against the time when the wife is to be tried. The time of the next hearing is not settled. Prosecutor Ladd is very ill and it will all wait until he can attend to his duties. It is still not settled if it will be a continued inquest or if the case will go to the grand jury at the evidence lies. Neither is the result of the analysis of the children's organs yet made public.

World's Almanac

Packed within the 332 pages of the World almanac and encyclopedia for 1913 is a vast compendium of useful knowledge, remarkably inclusive in its scope and at the same time generous as to detail. It is a printed information bureau which answers the thousands of questions raised every day in home, office, and even in the school, bearing on political, historic, scientific, legal, commercial, and other subjects.

As a reference book this work holds a leading place upon miscellaneous matters, and it is certainly worth many times the price which is 35 cents. The index shows a vast number of subjects and they are all brought up-to-date.

THE WOMEN'S NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC LEAGUE ELECTS NEW OFFICERS AFTER LONG WRANGLE

OFFICERS OF THE WOMEN'S DEMOCRATIC LEAGUE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—There was considerable politics in the meeting of the Women's National Democratic League in this city. Mrs. J. S. Crosby, of New York, the oldest president, failed for re-election, being succeeded by Mrs. Stephen D. Ayres, the wife of a New York congressman. Mrs. H. T. Scott, in nominating Mrs. Ayres, said that President Elect Wilson had endorsed the wife of the New York congressman for the post. Mrs. Crosby presented this statement and declared that Mr. Wilson would not interfere in the matter. The officers shown in the picture, from left to right are: Mrs. Ayres, Mrs. J. Charles Linthicum, wife of Representative Linthicum of Maryland; Mrs. William A. Cullop, wife of Representative Cullop of Indiana; Mrs. Robert L. Henry, wife of Representative Henry of Texas, and Mrs. Ayres, the new president. Mesdames Henry, Linthicum and Cullop are vice presidents.

LOWELL MUSICIANS' ASSOCIATION HELD MEETING

Officers Were Installed
Yesterday Afternoon

RICHARD GRIFFITHS

A very pleasant gathering took place at the Lowell Musicians' association quarters yesterday afternoon, the occasion being the installation of the recently elected board of officers of the association. This was followed by a social hour, which was attended by about 200 people, all friends of the members. A varied musical program was rendered and there were speeches galore, some of the members of the municipal council giving a brief summary of their work in the respective departments during the past year.

The installation of officers was private, this being held in the early part of the afternoon, and at the close of the ceremony the doors were thrown open and a large number of guests were escorted into the room. The association orchestra under the leadership of Emil J. Borjes, the talented violinist, rendered the following program: March, "Spirit of Independence," Holman; Overture, by Suppe; "Pink Lady," and several other selections.

President Richard A. Griffiths occupied the chair, and after an introductory speech in the course of which he advocated more municipal concerts during the summer months, he spoke at length on the association and its doings and related how it was organized a few years ago by Messrs. J. H. Hubbard, Nathan Lewis and Percy Burleigh, and the progress it has made since. He said there were now 180 members in good standing and a substantial treasury of over $1,000.

Mayor James E. O'Donnell and Commissioners Lawrence Cummings and Andrew E. Barrett also spoke and they dwelt particularly on the desirability of their departments at city hall during the past year. They also promised that the question of more municipal concerts would be given a fair deal when the appropriations for the year are made at the meeting of the council.

They closed by saying a few good words in favor of the association and wishing the latter many more prosperous years. Other speakers were Nathan Lewis, a charter member of the association and now of Boston; T. F. O'Rourke, Supt. Redmond Welch; Thomas Maguire, Hon. Joseph H. Hubbard, John J. Mahoney, and Charles E. Anderson.

Refreshments were served and a splendid afternoon was enjoyed.

The officers installed were the following: President, Richard A. Griffiths; vice-president, W. A. Owen; secretary and treasurer, Charles A. Delaronde; trustees, Hon. Joseph H. Hubbard, C. B. Thompson, William Regan; executive board, H. J. Roberts, Emil J.

JAMES J. GULLIGAN,
President.

At the regular meeting of the Young Men's Catholic Institute yesterday morning, the principal business was the installation of the newly elected officers. Ex-president John J. McCaffery officiated and those who were installed were the following:

President, James F. Gulligan; vice-president, James P. Flanagan; recording secretary, Thomas Higgins; financial secretary, Robert Whalen; board of directors, J. F. Coanors, Frank McCaffery, Joseph Mullin, Eliot Wood, Alfred Conroy, John Payne and George Clark. The report which was read by the secretary was accepted as progressive and several suggestions were received. The following new names were added to the membership roll: Edward Burns, Dr. J. J. McCarthy, Jr., Lucien Brunelle, Walter Kelly, John Brennan and Leo Pansy. Mr. O'Neill announced that a meeting of the committee in charge of the night before Lent social and dance would convene to make arrangements for this event and to elect officers.

day, January 11, in the Y. M. C. I. hall and a committee of ten was appointed to make arrangements for this event. The ladies' nights which have already been held by the institute have proven very successful and have in every case enjoyed large attendances.

At yesterday morning's meeting seven delegates were chosen to attend the St. Patrick's day convention of all the Irish Catholic societies in Hibernian hall in the afternoon.

A committee of five was chosen to consider the advisability of arranging a tournament of games with other Catholic organizations and they will report at the next meeting of the institute.

Remarks for the good of the society were made by several of the members and officers and following the business meeting an entertainment of music was enjoyed by the members.

FINE PAID BY VICTIM
Mary Bonaficio of Pawtucket, Cut by a Boarder, Agrees to Square His Accounts With Law

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Jan. 12.—For assault on Mary Bonaficio with a knife, inflicting a cut in her hand, Robert Bagdewitz, a boarder at the house of the woman, 42 Sherman street, was fined $20 and costs in the district court.

A strange feature of the case was that the woman agreed to pay his fine.

12,000 PLAN TO STRIKE

The Garment Workers in Boston May Quit

BOSTON, Jan. 12.—Boston is facing a general strike of the 12,000 garment workers of this city.

At a mass meeting held at Faneuil hall last night it was stated that demands would be presented the clock, waist and skirt manufacturers next Thursday or Friday.

These demands will call for an increase in wages, sanitary shop conditions and the abolition of the "sweat shop" and employment of minors under age of legal employment.

2000 at Meeting

There were over 2000 men and women crowded in the hall and they cheered the remarks of their leaders. President James T. Moriarty of the Boston Central Labor union declared that if a strike must come the allied trades stood ready to back the garment workers to the limit.

Miss Mabel Gillespie, secretary of the Women's Trade Union league, addressed the women workers. She said that if a strike is to be declared she would guarantee that the women would fight as well as the men, and would be found in the picket lines up to the last minute.

Benjamin Horn, business agent of the Joint Board of Ladies' Garment Workers of Boston, presided. He said in opening that word of a general strike in the women's garment workers had been intimated and the meeting was to decide whether such a step

BOY OF 16 MURDERED

Body Found—The Older Brother Missing

PORTLAND, Conn., Jan. 13.—The body of 16-year-old Edwin Sjogren, who disappeared from his home Wednesday night, was found yesterday in a pasture, completely covered with large stones.

Four bullet wounds were upon the body. Two bullets, apparently from a .38 calibre revolver, had passed through the heart, the third had penetrated the liver and the fourth had gone through the mouth.

The discovery was made by two schoolboys, friends of the murdered boy, who were members of a large party engaged in searching the neighborhood for traces of him.

The boy's brother, Joseph Sjogren, aged 15, has been missing from home since Thursday morning, and the police are searching for him. He was last seen on a Hartford-bound trolley car. The father of the boys says that the two did not get along well together and had frequent quarrels.

WHITE SLAVE AID FUND

John D. Rockefeller, Jr. Gives $10,000,000

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has set aside $10,000,000 in bonds, title of which has not passed as yet, for the purpose of establishing the Rockefeller foundation, a charitable institution, the one and only object of which will be to reclaim women of the tenderloin, give them good homes and place them in lucrative positions where they will be self-supporting.

Complete in Detail

Stanley O. Finch, chief of the United States government bureau of investigation, will be in active charge of the entire work, with the exception of the finances, which will be under the control of Mr. Rockefeller and his associates.

Home for Consumptives

Another feature calls for the establishment of a home for consumptives at Denver. To this home not only consumptives, but women weakened by other diseases, will be sent until they are cured or die. The cities in which the homes are to be established have not been named, with the exception of Boston and Philadelphia, where it is virtually certain large homes will be established.

So far has the plan progressed that Mr. Finch, who has had charge of the suppression and investigation of the white slave traffic for the government, has been making a personal investigation of the qualifications of the under investigators in this department in an effort to pick out 15 of the best of them, who will be put in direct charge of the investigation and in the cities where the homes are to be established. These men first will investigate the qualifications of the women who will be taken from the resorts and placed in the homes.

According to persons who know of the aims and ambitions of Mr. Rockefeller, it is not his idea that the red light districts can be stamped out entirely, but he believes they may be contracted considerably through the elimination of the material from which the investigators see prospects of making good women.

Mr. Rockefeller got his idea after close study, following the time when he was foreman of the New York grand jury which investigated the white slave traffic. After much study, Mr. Rockefeller has come to the conclusion that the white slave traffic cannot be stamped out unless some provision is made for the women of the tenderloin. His solution is the $10,000,000 fund.

2500 PEOPLE HOMELESS

Heavy Losses Caused by Floods

CINCINNATI, Jan. 13.—The Ohio river passed the 60-foot stage here yesterday and continued to rise steadily at the rate of two inches an hour in the lower parts of the city and in Dayton, Newport and Covington suburbs across the river in Kentucky, 2500 persons have been made temporarily homeless by the invading waters.

In the Kentucky towns schoolhouses and churches have been thrown open and are filled with refugees. The property loss will reach into the thousands.

Cincinnati commission merchants and warehouse owners whose places of business are along the river front have suffered heavy loss. Hundreds of cellars have been flooded and in some buildings facing the wharves the water is up to the second story.

The Pan Handle and the Louisville & Nashville railroad freight houses are half buried in water and all trains running into the Grand Central station are being enroute into the city.

The flooded streets along the river on both the Ohio and Kentucky sides were filled with rowboats and launches all day carrying out refugees and their belongings. Steamboat traffic on the river has been practically abandoned, the water being so high that many of the boats are unable to pass under the upstream traffic.

The Melling river, which divides Newport and Covington, and flows into the Ohio opposite Cincinnati, is out of its banks. Many factories along the banks of this river have been put out of commission by the flood.

The government forecaster predicted yesterday that the rise would continue for 30 hours, assuming a cessation of rain.

NASHUA WAS SPOTLESS

Lid Shut Down Tight Yesterday

NASHUA, N. H., Jan. 13.—Nashua was the spotless town yesterday that Police Commissioner Harry A. Gregg is apparently trying to make it.

He succeeded, for one day at least, with the shadow of 61 indictments hanging over the heads of city officials and others and rumors of many more to follow.

Nashua had the lid down tight yesterday, tighter than on any day since Commissioner Gregg led his raid of last spring, the first ever made by a police commissioner in Nashua.

Pastors Praise Gregg

In nearly every one of the churches yesterday, the indicting of city officials on serious charges was alluded to and Commissioner Gregg praised. He is given the full credit for the cleaning up, although he has said that he is but one of the men who are behind the movement.

"And some of them are more zealous in it than I am," said Commissioner Gregg.

Who the others are is the subject of much comment. Many citizens are mentioned but not one of them has come to the front publicly, so that the public Commissioner Gregg stands alone as the sponsor for the biggest raid and the longest list of indictments ever secured in Nashua.

At least three others are being mentioned around the streets as involved in the cases, but none of the names have been brought officially into the matter.

Commissioner Gregg has hinted that some of the most important of the cases would be held for the legislature to act on and it is the common talk that when the cases come before the legislature the names of two of them will be brought out.

Travel of $500 Bill

One of the topics that is being discussed is what became of a five hundred dollar bill which went from the hand of "William Sullivan," the detective who posed as a sport, when he had made "arrangements" to open a poolroom. In whose hands it finally rested and how it was divided, it divided, are matters of deep interest just now.

Showing how easy "Sullivan," the detective sport, caught many of those indicted on the sampler charges, one of the defendants said to a reporter yesterday: "There were four of us having a little 25-cent limit game. Sullivan dropped in when we were playing. We knew him and he sat in for a while. Now all four of us are indicted."

Kept Open House in Poolroom

The opening up of the poolroom by "Sullivan," and how he got to run it almost openly is likely to have a de-

880 ON WRECKED STEAMER SAVED

Liner Uranium Struck Rocks Off Halifax—Women and Children First Rule Enforced

HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 13.—Wives were torn from the arms of their husbands and children forcibly separated from fear-stricken parents in the rescue of the 880 passengers of the steamship Uranium, bound from Rotterdam to this port and to New York from Halifax, which drove up on the jagged ledge off Chebucto Head yesterday morning.

Terrified passengers swarming from the steamer when the rush of water through the rent in the steamer's bow tilted the ship's length to stern at an alarming angle, resisted the efforts of the ship's officers to get the women and children first into the lifeboats.

In spite of the chaos of hysterical mothers and frantic fathers, husbands and wives the work of rescue was accomplished and every passenger borne over the waves in the ship's boats and in the surf boats of the shore life-savers to the fleet of local craft which answered the first call of distress.

The snapping of the hawser or an anchor, heaved immediately after the liner struck, knocked down and severely injured several of the crew, including the quartermaster. These men were brought to the hospital here last night.

Not a life was lost, and although the craft was awash inside and still clinging to the rocky spur which drove in her bow plates, Captain Eustace refused to quit her, and will remain aboard until all hope of saving the vessel is given over.

Struck During Storm

The government steamer Lady Laurier and the steamer Bridgewater, to which the passengers were transferred from the wreck, arrived here last night.

The Uranium was riding in through a stiff storm of sleet and rain and was in the midst of a fog bank when she struck the ledge about a fourth of a mile from the Chebucto Head Light station.

Most of the passengers were between decks when the crash came and quick work on the part of the officers for a time kept all below.

10-Foot Hole in Hull

The steamer's bow drove upon the rock with a ragged hole about 10 feet long below the waterline.

The rush of sea water filled the first compartment within a few seconds after the shock and before all of the bulkheads could be closed the brine had swept astern and was rapidly filling the stern when stemmed by the compartment doors.

Life Savers Alongside

Signals of distress were hoisted and lifeboats unlatched and 45 minutes after she struck, the Duncan Cove life station's crew were alongside in surfboats.

The engines were kept going at full speed by the captain in an effort to drag her off. The anchor which was first thrown was lost at once by the parting of the cable.

As the ship settled astern the passengers could no longer be kept below, and swarmed to the decks. Hundreds of them could understand no word of the officers, and scenes of the wildest excitement prevailed.

It was not until they were partly assured that some might be saved by the sight of the life-savers standing by that any semblance of order could be gained.

The steamer's wireless call for aid was caught at the Campdown station and word was flashed from there to this city.

C. H. Harvey, marine and fisheries agent, was warned and in turn notified

R. Holland, the Chebucto Lighthouse-keeper, and the nearest lifesaving stations.

Fleet to the Rescue

The government steamer Lady Laurier was caught outside by wireless, and with a fleet of other local craft hastened to the rescue.

The engines of the Uranium were stopped when it became apparent that no effort to their credit from the liner and all attention directed to the lifeboats.

C. H. Harvey while in communication with Captain Eustace by wireless, ordered him to put off the passengers at once, and when the Herring Cove life savers reached the liner's side at 2 o'clock the work of transferring them was started.

Flight Separation

It was then that frightened men and women fought against separation from relatives. The order of women and children first was met by a storm of objection and it became necessary to wrest women from husbands and children from parents.

The fate of separated mothers and children and husbands and wives on the Titanic seemed to be uppermost in the minds of the passengers.

Although the rain and sleet was falling, there was really no rough water. This was all that prevented great loss of life.

All Taken Off Safely

The disembarkation was finally accomplished by the ship's boats, boats from tugs and the surf boats of the life-savers and all the passengers and injured seamen taken from the Uranium without serious accident.

When the towboats and steamers arrived with the passengers the latter were housed in the immigration house and the separate members of families rejoined each other. Their excitement continued until most of these reunions had taken place.

Rescuer Ordered Away

Lighthouse keeper Holland later reported that he had rowed out to the wreck after he received instructions from Harvey and that he had been ordered to keep off by Captain Eustace.

He also said that the officer in charge of the Eustace should have been able to hear the warning fog whistle in time to prevent striking the ledge.

Captain Eustace offered no explanation and remained aboard with a large part of the crew. It is his hope that at low water the weight of the vessel will drag her from the ledge.

When the last passenger left the liner, the bow was eight feet above water and there was from 15 to 17 fathoms of water under her stern.

Should the wind change the partial shelter of Chebucto head will be removed and the craft placed in great danger. A heavy southwest wind was blowing when the Uranium struck.

She had no pilot aboard and ran into the small cove just north of Chebucto head.

The calmer of the passengers spoke highly of the work of the officers during the excitement and all were warm in their praise of the life savers and crews of local boats.

STEAMER URANIUM WAS ON THE BAR EARLY THIS MORNING

HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 13.—The steamer Uranium, which terminated her voyage from Rotterdam by piling up on a reef ten miles below Halifax in a fog yesterday, remained on the bar early today with Captain Eustace and crew aboard but with all the 880 passengers safely aboard at the immigration station. Whether she could be saved was problematical.

Wrecking steamers planned to put out to her at the noon tide. The steamer is stuck bow on with 17 fathoms of water under her stern. The bow plate is ripped open and number one hold is waterfilled. The vessel's position is only a few hundred yards from the lighthouse at Chebucto head, where the keeper declares he was blowing his foghorn when the vessel struck. It was on the same ledge that the steamer Atlantic of the White Star line was lost in 1873 with a sacrifice of 400 lives.

The rescue of the Uranium's passengers was accomplished by lifeboats from Chebucto head and by transfer to the government steamer Lady Laurier, which was prompt to reply to wireless signals.

There was no panic, notwithstanding that most of the passengers were foreigners and among the number were many women and children.

There were many thrills but no serious accidents and all of the passengers were landed here during the night. Six hundred of them bound for New York probably will leave today by special train.

The Uranium is 22 years old and under four different owners has borne as many names. She was christened the Uranium, later the San Farnado and the Atlanta. The Uranium steamship company her present owner gave her the present name.

ABDUCTORS ARE BAILED

Charged With Attempt to Kidnap Heiress

FATHER OF GIRL READY TO PAY FORTUNE TO PROSECUTE

Girls' Head Badly Cut as Result of Struggle With Men—Each Under $3000 Bail

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Jan. 13.—Samuel Sinclair, supervising inspector of state highways, and R. Walter Starr, a senior at a nearby college, were released from jail here yesterday under $3000 bail, each to answer charges of attempting to abduct Miss Anna E. Steekel, daughter of a retired millionaire business man of this town. The hearing will be held next Thursday.

Reuben P. Steekel, the girl's father, declares that he will spend half his fortune, if necessary, to prosecute the alleged abductors of his daughter.

Girls' Head Badly Cut
Miss Steekel is at her home with her face and head badly cut as the result of her struggles in the taxicab in which it is alleged the attempt to abduct her was made. She is 23 years old a graduate of the Allentown College for Women and Vassar.

Sinclair is 30 years old a member of a prominent family in Kennett Square, Pa. Starr is his nephew and a son of a well known Philadelphia dentist.

The alleged abduction occurred Saturday afternoon. Miss Steekel was returning from a shopping expedition and had just entered the vestibule of her home when she was seized by two men and forced into a waiting taxicab.

The chauffeur was ordered to drive to the country, but on hearing sounds of a struggle, he declares, he turned his machine toward the police station, but in his haste collided with a monument in the centre of the town.

The party was taken to the police station, where after Miss Steekel had told her story, the two men were held. Sinclair, who is said to be a rejected suitor of the girl, declared that they were eloping with her consent.

ELKS' ANNUAL BALL
Prospect That This Year's Event Will Be One of the Best Ever Conducted By the Lodge

The annual concert and ball of Lowell Lodge of Elks which is to be held in the Elks hall and Elks hall on Wednesday evening promises to be one of the biggest events of its kind in local annals. This year instead of being exclusively an affair for members of the lodge has decided to include the general public in its festivities and the proceeds will be devoted to the building fund. The sub-committee in charge of the detail work incidental to the affair have formulated many elaborate plans which will make the event one to be pleasantly remembered by all who have the good fortune to participate in its pleasures.

The grand march, in Associate hall, will start at 8 o'clock and will be followed by general dancing until midnight with an intermission at 11 o'clock long enough to permit the offering of the usual 11 o'clock Elks' toast to absent brothers, a beautiful and impressive service for which the Elks are noted the country over. The toast ceremony will be conducted by Bro. John W. McEvoy. At midnight the dancing will cease and the party will repair to the Elks hall in Middle street where supper will be served by the Page company, dancing and after which a delightful concert and cabaret show will be given by professional and amateur talent. Bathing will be elaborately decorated. Special attention has been given to the music and entertainment features. Tickets admitting a gentleman and two ladies are on sale at $1.00 each, while in response to a popular demand special ladies' tickets have been issued at 50 cents each, admitting to the floor.

A reception committee in charge of Bro. Samuel Scott promises that everyone will be made at home.

MISS GOULD TO WED JAN. 22

The Ceremony Will Be Performed at Her Country Place Near Tarrytown—Orchestra Will Play Fine Program

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—The date for the marriage of Miss Helen Miller Gould to Finley J. Sheppard of St. Louis has been definitely set as Wednesday, Jan. 22. It was said by close friends today. The ceremony will be performed at Miss Gould's country place near Tarrytown at noon and will be witnessed only by a small gathering of her relatives and intimate friends, including some of her old neighbors. An orchestra has been engaged to provide an elaborate musical program but otherwise the wedding will be simple. Mr. Sheppard is selecting a number of classical pieces for the orchestra. The ceremony will be followed by a seated breakfast.

Miss Gould's brother-in-law and sister, the Duke and Duchess de Talleyrand, sailed from Liverpool last night on the Mauretania to be present at the wedding. Conspicuous among the guests will probably be those from among the railroad, army and navy, branches of the Y. M. C. A., which gave much to Miss Gould's philanthropy, and other friends of the bride and groom.

EX-STRIKERS CELEBRATE

Anniversary of Walk Out in Lawrence

LAWRENCE, Jan. 13.—The mill workers of Lawrence who are affiliated with the Industrial Workers of the World celebrated yesterday the anniversary of the beginning of the great textile strike last winter.

Meetings were held by the several nationalities represented among the operatives, each of which was addressed by Joseph J. Ettor, who was prominent as a leader during the early stages of the strike.

Ettor recounted the success of the workers during the past year in securing advanced wages and predicted that the coming year, too, would be one of success in the same direction, with the scope changed. At the principal meeting Ettor, after being presented with a bouquet, christened a "baby girl," the child of a mill operative, "Rebelle."

MISQUOTED, SAYS ETTOR
I. W. W. Leader Declares His Address to New York Workers Urged No Violence

LAWRENCE, Jan. 13.—Declaring that he had been incorrectly quoted in reports of a talk made to striking mill employees of New York last Friday night, Joseph J. Ettor, the labor leader, made public last night a letter which he had written to the hotel workers explaining his position.

Ettor was quoted in his letter to the hotel workers as saying to the hotel workers: "If you are compelled to go back under unsatisfactory conditions . . . go back with your minds made up that it is the capitalist to eat food prepared by members of your union."

In denying that he used these words, Ettor says in his letter to the strikers: "I did not make the remarks alleged . . . nor do I believe the suggestion they (newspapers) claim can be taken out of my talk is a policy that I advise you to follow, for I am satisfied that the course they insinuate and attribute to me would not bring success, but the opposite."

He is not to be won by any policy that endangers human life."

SCHOOL CREDIT FOR HOME DUTIES
New Idea in Which Pupils Are Taught to do the Chores at Their Homes

How teachers in Oregon bring school and home closer together by giving school credit for industrial work at home is told with compelling interest by Hon. L. R. Alderman, state superintendent of public instruction in Oregon, in a public instruction in Oregon.

In a public instruction in Oregon, the United States bureau of education is sending free at the request of teachers.

Building fires, milking cows; cleaning the barn; splitting and carrying in wood; turning cream separator; cleaning house; gathering eggs; feeding farm animals; churning butter; preparing breakfast; sweeping and scrubbing floors; washing and making beds; sewing, washing and ironing the child's own clothes; bathing; arriving at school with clean hands and face and with hair combed; practicing music lessons; going to bed by 9 o'clock every night; bathing and dressing the baby; sleeping with mother in bed; in bed.

There are a few of the duties for which the teacher at Spring Valley, Oregon, allows credit in connection with regular school work.

The work is definitely measured and allowed for. The child desiring credit for home tasks brings to school a slip signed by the parent testifying that the child has done the work.

What has been done is added to the final examination results of all pupils (except eighth graders) who enter and continue in the voluntary contest to see which can obtain the most of such credits; a certain number of accumulated credits entitles the pupil to a holiday, at the discretion of the teacher, and in this one school, at least, each reward is given to pupils making the best record in accredited home tasks.

The experiment was so successful in Spring Valley that it attracted the attention of the county superintendents of the state, who this year made a special trip in a body to observe the results of the home-credit plan in this school, and the idea has been widely spread. Already schools in other localities have tried the plan with success, modifying the details in accordance with local needs, but always retaining the central principle of home and school cooperation.

Observers of the work that is done in Oregon agree that the effect both on school and on home is an undeniably good. The children take more pride in their homes; give eager assistance in the household to their frequently overworked mothers; live cleaner, healthier lives than before; yet they by no means neglect their school work in their awakened zeal for home interests.

Indeed, the evidence seems to be that the habits of industry and cleanliness thus encouraged in respect to duties in the home are not only reflected in the pride they take in sanitary school surroundings, but also in increased ability in studies, greater willingness to do the lessons, and a higher degree of accuracy in all the activities both of home and school.

The basic principle behind the work of Dr. Alderman and his associates is that education should make us more willing and efficient workers. "Every person has some home duties, chores, and the like. Under the proper encouragement and direction the boys and girls who are in school can be taught to do these things well and thoroughly. The more they do well and cheerfully, the better for them; they will become finer and more useful men and women. The giving of school credit for home work," says Dr. Alderman, "is like opening great reservoirs of power which as yet have scarcely been tapped."

Certain it is that cooperation between home and school is one of the pressing problems of the day. Accordingly this Oregon experiment, which seeks to coordinate in the fullest sense the interests of school and life, is followed with close attention by educators everywhere.

The United States bureau of education has several thousand copies of the Oregon booklet on hand for free distribution. They may be had on request.

GIRLS HAVE RAISED $1005
Wellesley Students Give Up Luxuries in Order to Relieve Balkan War Sufferers

WELLESLEY, Jan. 13.—Added by gifts of $247 from the faculty, Wellesley college girls have thus far raised $1005 for the Red Cross fund for relief of Balkan War sufferers, Miss Elizabeth Heynton, '13, chairman of the undergraduate relief committee, reported yesterday.

The committee has already appropriated $550, said Miss Heynton, and $125 has been sent to the Greeks, $125 to the Bulgarians, $125 to the General Red Cross association and $105 to Wellesley representatives in Constantinople for relief work among women and children. The committee appreciates that many of the gifts already made represent sacrifice and the giving up of luxuries."

EUGENE, Ore., Jan. 13.—Mrs. Elizabeth E. Vose, 51 years old, has been granted a divorce from Geo. Learned, aged 56. They were married two years ago. Elizabeth was Mrs. Learned's fifth wife, and Mrs. Learned has three previous marriages. Mrs. Learned complained that the husband objected to her religious leanings.

An examination showed he had suffered a compound fracture of the left arm, broken collarbone, a severe laceration on the left knee and concussion of the brain. His recovery is considered doubtful.

Deaths Held Dance
The third annual dancing party for the Bettins, held on Friday evening in Lincoln hall, was one of the prettiest and most enjoyable socials of the season.

The hall was attractively decorated, and music was furnished by Broderick's orchestra. Those in charge of the affair were: Margaret McLellan, general manager; Helen Hanson, assistant general manager; Andrew MacPhee, floor director, and Elizabeth Murningham, treasurer. Annual Report
The members of the First Trinitarian Congregational church heard the reading of the annual report of the church at the services yesterday which showed that at the beginning of the year there were 735 enrolled as members of the church and during the year 28 united with the church and were dropped from the roll, 5 by death, 10 by removal from this city and 10 by letter to other churches. This report was made by the clerk, Dr. H. H. Sumner.

The report of the treasurer, E. P. Farnham, showed that the total receipts of the year were $5732.71 and the total disbursements were $4300.00, the balance on hand on January 1, 1912, being included in the total receipts. During the year, all bills against the church and the Gates property on Market street, now owned by the church, have been paid and $1200 has been paid on the mortgage on this property.

The Sunday school report showed a very satisfactory financial condition, but there was a loss of 33 in membership.

PARADE ON MARCH 17 VOTED

James J. McManmon
Elected Marshal by Convention

The annual convention of the Irish Catholic societies of Lowell was held in the A. O. H. hall yesterday afternoon, and the body voted unanimously to parade on St. Patrick's day.

At 2:15 o'clock the delegates from 15 organizations were called to order by Mr. Daniel Cosgrove, who made a brief but appropriate speech.

The societies represented were the following: Division 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

On the motion of one of the delegates to have a roll call it was found that the number of those present was 117.

Chairman Elected

The first business to come up was the election of a chairman of the gathering, and Mr. James J. McManmon was elected to fill that office. Mr. John V. Donoghue was chosen as secretary and by unanimous vote of the convention these officers were made permanent.

Mr. Donoghue has already served in the capacity of secretary for several years past. Mr. McManmon was accorded an enthusiastic welcome as he was escorted to the chair, and Mr. Cosgrove, who declined reelection, was given a rising vote of thanks by the members.

Mr. Donoghue then read the minutes of last year's convention, giving an excellent detailed report of the event and paying a fitting tribute to the committee which had charge of the arrangements.

On that occasion, a set of resolutions had been drawn up protesting against the celebrating of the day with a parade with England and copies of these were sent to prominent men in congress. In this regard letters were read from Speaker Champ Clark, Congressman Butler Ames, Henry Cabot Lodge and Senator Murray Crane. All were commendatory of the spirit in which the resolutions were drawn up, and the committee was commended for its action.

By a unanimous vote, the delegation from the United Irish league, which up to this time has not taken part in the St. Patrick's day convention, was given a seat in the convention yesterday afternoon.

Mr. John Hickey was unanimously re-elected treasurer of the convention, a position he has filled with credit for many years. Mr. Hickey was detained at home by illness, otherwise he would have been in attendance at the meeting.

Chairman McManmon then called for suggestions regarding the St. Patrick's day observance, and President Patrick McMan of Division 27, Ancient Order of Hibernians, made the motion that the Irish Catholic societies of Lowell celebrate St. Patrick's day with a parade. The motion, which was greeted with loud applause, was immediately seconded and unanimously carried.

Chief Marshal Chosen

The next business was the election of a chief marshal for this event, and Delegate Francis J. Kierce arose to nominate Mr. Jas. McManmon to this office. In his nomination speech he paid a glowing tribute to Mr. McManmon.

There were no further nominations and it was unanimously voted to instruct the secretary to call on ballot for Mr. McManmon as chief marshal. In a few words, the latter thanked the delegates for the honor which they had forced upon him and said that he would exert every effort to make the parade on St. Patrick's day worthy of such a gathering.

The Irish Catholic organization of Lowell came upon the stage, and men on their membership rolls, he said, and with such a number all should turn out to celebrate in a most fitting manner the feast day of the patron saint of Ireland.

Committee Named

It was voted to have nominated from the floor a committee containing a representative from each organization present and the following were chosen:

Div. 1, A. O. H.—Daniel F. Hogan.
Div. 2, A. O. H.—John J. Murphy.
Div. 3, A. O. H.—Daniel F. Reilly.
Div. 4, A. O. H.—John F. McManmon.

Div. 6, A. O. H.—Captain Patrick Fitzgerald.

Matthew Temperance Institute—Peter F. Brady.

Burke Temperance Institute—Patrick J. Mahoney.

United Irish League—Francis Brash.
The above named committees will hold a meeting in the A. O. H. hall, on Monday, January 20. It was also voted that the name of the secretary be added to the above committee. This body in conjunction with the chief marshal will have charge of the arrangements for the parade on March 17.

JAMES J. McMANMON,

A committee of five known as the committee on programs was also chosen and comprises the following: Edward Flannagan, F. J. Kierce, Captain Thomas Doherty, Captain John J. Higgins and Thomas Fitzgerald.

The meeting was adjourned shortly after four o'clock and the convention will meet again on Sunday afternoon, January 20.

PROCEEDINGS AGAINST MELLON AND OTHER RAILROAD OFFICIALS ARE HALTED

Proceedings Against Mellon and Other Railroad Officials Are Halted

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Counsel for President Mellon of the New Haven road filed a plea in abatement in the United States district court today, asserting that the recent indictments of the three railroad men, President Mellon, E. A. Chamberlin, president of the Grand Trunk, and Alfred Smithers, chairman of the Grand Trunk board, were void, vitiated and nullified because one of the grand jurors was a resident of Jersey City.

He gave the name of that juror as Albert Stephens. Argument on plea will be heard on Friday morning. Mellon did not appear in court today, but was represented by John Crim.

The plea of abatement halts all proceedings until the validity of the indictment is established. The government will either answer the charge of Stephens' non-residency or file a demurrer. In either case it will take weeks, perhaps months, to decide the matter, and it may be necessary to go before a jury.

Mr. Crim said that in behalf of his client he would carry the fight to the United States supreme court if necessary. His plea, as filed today, alleged that Juror Stephens was and has been for some time a resident of Jersey City though formerly a resident of New York. The indictments in question were returned by the federal grand jury for the southern district of New York and, according to counsel, under the law all the jurors must be residents of that state.

Messrs. Mellon, Chamberlin and Smithers were indicted for alleged violation of the criminal clause of the Sherman anti-trust law. Mellon and Chamberlin entered pleas of not guilty and had until today to change their pleas.

The federal grand jury which has been investigating the transportation system in New England with a view to determining whether the New York, New Haven & Hartford is in itself a monopoly returned its inquiry today. It is the same committee which returned the indictments against Mellon, Chamberlin and Smithers, and notwithstanding today's developments Mr. Stephens continued as a member of the jury.

One of the witnesses heard today was H. O. Nickerson, general manager of the New England Steamship Co., which is controlled by the New Haven.

NEW STORE IS OPENED WORLD FAMED EXPLORER

In Sun Building by United Cigar Stores Co. Capt. Amundsen Who Discovered So. Pole

The formal opening of the new store of the United Cigar Stores Co. of Rhode Island, in the new Sun building, at the corner of Merrimack and Prescott streets, Saturday, attracted thousands of people and during the day and evening there was a steady stream of people entering and leaving the store, expressed at the elaborate and artistic interior of the place.

It is one of the finest cigar stores in New England and has the finest location in the city. It is very easy of access, there being four entrances. Entrances are at 2 and 6 Merrimack street, 3 Prescott street and from the main corridor of the Sun building. The United Cigar store was opened at 3 Merrimack street in this city about three and a half years ago, but the patronage of smokers was so large that it was necessary that new and larger quarters be secured. Ever thoughtful of the smoking public and anxious to secure the best locations in every city the company upon learning of the location of the Sun building immediately entered into negotiations for the corner store.

Of the four large plate glass windows in the store, three are used for a display of pipes, cigars, cigarettes, tobacco, premiums and various other articles. As one enters the store, however, he realizes that no expense was spared in fitting out the place. All of the furniture and trimmings of the interior of the store are of mahogany, the show cases and display closets being of the latest design. Revolving glass is used in the show cases. The floor is made of minute tiles and the finish of the ceiling and walls is in keeping with the new and improved.

A new departure is the installation of a handsome soda fountain, one of the finest in this vicinity. In the south many of the United Cigar stores dispense soda but the local store is the first of the company's stores in New England to install a soda fountain. The fountain is known as the "Innovation" and is manufactured by the American Soda Fountain Co. It is made of attractive marble, the large slabs being of white Italian marble, while the trimmings are of verd-green marble. In the rear of the soda fountain are hand carved decorations with various colored leaded glass.

Another new departure is the operation of the store on Sunday. Opening to the excellent location the management felt that it would be convenient for the public if the store was kept open and for that reason the soda fountain was installed and the local and Boston daily and Sunday papers are for sale here.

Saturday and yesterday the corps of clerks in the employ of the company were kept busy waiting on customers and it was surprising to see the large number of ladies who patronized the soda fountain. As a general rule the ordinary cigar store is not an inviting place for a woman to enter, but the United Cigar Stores Co. has attained such a high standard throughout the country that lady smokers are nothing of patronizing one of their stores. The local store through the soda fountain caters expressly to ladies.

Saturday souvenirs were given away to every one. Carnations were pre-arranged, match boxes and ash trays, cigar cutters, playing cards, cigar lighters, amber cigar tubes and humidor were given to the men.

Owing to the slight inconvenience that the patrons of the store were put in during the removal into the new quarters, the management will give double certificates for every purchase until January 15th. Mr. Burton H. Prescott, who has been in charge of the local store will continue in that capacity in the new store.

MATRIMONIAL

At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in St. Joseph's rectory, Mr. Luc McKinnon and Miss Bella Fortin were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Henry Watelle, O. M. I. The young couple were attended by Messrs. A. Fortin and Joseph McKinnon. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 113 Elm street. Mr. and Mrs. McKinnon left for the 47 o'clock train for Boston and upon their return, Jan. 19, they will make their home at 115 Allen street.

To Recognize "Big Four"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Gov. Fox, Mayor Fitzgerald, Congressman William F. Murphy and ex-Congressman William C. McNary are the men to whom Gov. Wilson will pay particular attention when he becomes president, and takes up the question of the distribution of Massachusetts patronage, according to the statement of a man who was closely connected with the management of Gov. Wilson's campaign from the time when he first established a bureau to forward his candidacy for the democratic nomination.

WILL BE AT OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT

Under Auspices of the Women's Middlesex Club—Banned With Peery in New York

No one should miss the opportunity of hearing Capt. Roald Amundsen, the discoverer of the South Pole, who is to lecture at the Opera House this evening. The lecture will be illustrated with moving pictures and beautifully colored slides taken at different points on the expedition.

Capt. Amundsen arrived in New York on Friday and attended a banquet given by the National Geographic society, at which he and Admiral Peery sat at the North and South Poles, figuratively speaking. It is interesting to note that Amundsen is now making extensive plans to take a trip to the North Pole.

Lowell has welcomed Peery and Nansen and Greely in the past, and has thus heard stories of polar exploration told by the master explorers. Now comes this chance to hear about the discovery of the world's last unknown place. Capt. Amundsen speaks English fluently, so that his story is sure to be interesting aside from the pictures.

This opportunity is offered to the people of Lowell through the enterprise of the Middlesex women's club, and they wish it distinctly understood that the lecture is open to the public. A large number of people should turn out to hear Capt. Amundsen, whose achievements have made him one of the great men of the world.

PRES. MAHONE TO SPEAK

At Tonight's Meeting of Local Carmen

The local members of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America will have the honor of the presentation of President Mahone of that organization at a meeting tonight in Runnels hall. Among others, the mayor of the city will speak, and Fred Fay, one of the international organizers will be present. Special cars will come from Lawrence, Nashua, Haverhill, Woburn, Reading and Chelsea. There will be an entertainment after the speaking.

Tomorrow John Beardon, the first vice president of the international association, will install the officers of the local union.

Typographical Union

Lowell Typographical union, No. 319, held a regular meeting yesterday afternoon at the rooms in the Runnels building. The president presided at the meeting. Secretary Fred A. Spear's report showed that the finances of the organization are in a very favorable condition.

The president's report that a new five-year agreement had been negotiated between the union and the English newspapers in this city was the feature of the meeting, as the agreement in question assures the members of the union a good increase in pay. Delegates to other unions also read their reports. It was announced that Edward M. Martin, the New England organizer of the International Typographical union, will visit Lowell this week to inspect trade conditions here.

Mass. Electoral Votes Go to Wilson

BOSTON, Jan. 13.—The eight electoral votes of Massachusetts were thrown today for Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey for president and Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana for vice-president. George M. Harlow of Hallowell, a member of the college, was chosen to carry the result to Washington.

MISS CATHERINE FEINDEL IS THE ONLY ONE OF HER SEX IN CLASS OF 800

Miss Catherine Estelle Feindel of Chelmsford is the only girl in the Lowell Textile school, where there are over 800 students. She is the second girl to attend the school since it was founded in 1898.

Miss Feindel, who is 20 years old, has been enrolled in the classes of the Textile school since 1910, and finished her course at the end of the present term in June. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Z. Feindel of Chelmsford, and was graduated from the Chelmsford high school in 1910.

The course of textile designing is the one thing taken by the lone co-ed. There are probably less than a score of women fabric designers in the United States, and Miss Feindel hopes to find a large field in which to work upon graduation.

Speaking of her studies, she says: "I always liked art work. Textile designing will give me opportunity for it. I liked it from the start, both the work and the school, though it did seem strange at first. But now I feel perfectly at home, having been here over two years. I shall finish next June and shall be sorry in some ways to leave here."

"The studies in textile designing here are like a college course, as they include everything relating to the work one is to take up in the end. In the textile designing course we have cloth analysis, preparation, textile calculation, mechanical drawing, wool and cotton finishing and mathematics."

"When I get through here I hope to go into the office at some textile mill or in the city office of some mill corporation and practise the designing I am now studying."

EMPIRE OF OIL LANDS

Worth Half Billion Discussed in Court

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—An empire of oil lands worth probably more than half a billion dollars was the prize which brought a group of opposing lawyers today before the supreme court. The occasion was the argument of what reply the court would make to a request for instruction from the United States circuit court of appeals for the ninth circuit which was unable to decide whether the Southern Pacific R. Co. or Edmund Burke and other separate entrymen were entitled to valuable tracts of land now said to be rushing forth oil in California.

The railroad company has received patents to the land. The government recently brought proceedings to have the patents cancelled but that question is not before the court. The patents contained a provision, excepting all mineral lands from the grant. This is the provision which now furnishes the principal contention.

Mr. Burke and those in a similar position claimed that the provision prevented the land from passing to the railroad and that they are entitled to the land under the proper entry. The railroad contends that the exception is void and that evidence cannot be produced to show the lands are "mineral" or oil lands, the government having issued a patent to them and no fraud having been practiced upon it. Primarily the Southern Pacific railroad alone is concerned in the present controversy, but the same exceptions are contained in patents to practically every land grant railroad traversing the west and so all will be affected by the decision.

Thomas Talbot Conclude Met

The regular meeting of Thomas Talbot concluse, No. 165, Knights of Sherwood Forest, Foresters of America, was held at Liberty hall on Princeton street yesterday. One application was received and passed over to the committee for investigation. The principal business of the meeting was the installation of the officers for the year 1913. The installing officer was Sir Knight William A. Kelly, supreme deputy, and Sir James W. Hogan, vice commander. The new officers are: Commander, Michael Grady; vice commander, William Kelly; adjutant, Albert McDougall; sergeant major, John Barrett; first lieutenant, Michael McDougall; second lieutenant, Thomas Moss; first sergeant, James Ready; second sergeant, Arthur Trainor; sergeant at arms, Jerry McDougall; trustees for three years, John McDougall.

A report of the auditors showed the conclusion to be in great condition financially. A vote of thanks was extended to Past Commander Sir Knight William A. # OFFICERS WERE INSTALLED

Ceremony at Notre Dame de Lourdes School

THREE COUNCILS UNITED IN THE INSTALLATION EXERCISES

Pierre Brousseau Presided, and the Ceremonies Were Quite Interesting—There Was a Large Attendance

The three local councils of the Union St. Jean Baptiste d'Amerique held a joint installation of officers yesterday afternoon, the affair being held at the Notre Dame de Lourdes parochial school in Middlesex street, under the auspices of Laval council. The other councils taking part in the ceremony were J. N. Jacques and Carillon, and the presiding officer was Pierre A. Brousseau of J. N. Jacques council, while the installing officer was J. E. Perrier of Lynn, an official of District council No. 4.

The ceremony was largely attended, and proved very interesting. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion and speeches and an entertainment program were rendered after the different officers were installed.

The exercises started in the morning, when all the officers to be installed attended high mass at 10:30 o'clock at Notre Dame de Lourdes church in a body. The celebrant at the mass was the pastor, Rev. Leon Lamothe, O. M. I., while the sermon, an appropriate one for the occasion, was delivered by Rev. J. B. Barrette, O. M. I., chaplain of Laval council. The choir under the direction of Mr. H. A. Racicot rendered Turner's St. Jean Baptiste mass, Miss Anna Alevant presiding at the organ. The Zouaves, a semi-military organization composed of young boys of the parish, were in attendance in their full regalia.

At the close of the mass the officials required to the home of Mr. Joseph Louvier, 2 Grand street, where a dignity dinner was served, followed by a reception. At 2 o'clock the party returned to the hall, where the ceremony was held.

Pierre A. Brousseau called to order and in a few words explained the purpose of the gathering and in behalf of Laval council welcomed those present. He then introduced Mr. Joseph E. Perrier of Lynn, who installed into office the following officers:

Carrillon, No. 100: Honorary president, Frederic Desrosiers; president, Joseph Carrier; vice president, Laurier Tremblay; recording secretary, Jesse Alexander; assistant recording secretary, Alfred Leclerc; treasurer, J. M. Morin; collector, Louis Asselin; medical examiner, Dr. D. S. Belchamur; marshal, Joseph Tremblay; master of ceremonies, Joseph Hardy; visitor of the sick, Mathias Pelouquin and Rev. Aquila Gratton, O. M. I., chaplain.

Laval, No. 222: President, J. M. Blouin; vice president, Arthur Morvan; treasurer, Joseph Lussier; financial secretary, Omer Forest; recording secretary, Henri Guerin; assistant recording secretary, Theodore Savigny; master of ceremonies, Pierre Lariviere; marshal, Samuel Simondeau; auditors, Raphael Palavals and Leopold Douzals, and Rev. J. B. A. Barrette, O. M. I., chaplain.

J. N. Jacques, No. 211: President, Pierre C. Gagnon; vice president, Hector Dupuis; treasurer, Adolphe Boachard; secretary, Elphege Boudette; assistant secretary, A. R. Trudel; master of ceremonies, Pierre A. Brousseau; marshal, Omer Fréchette; assistant marshal, Leon Marchand; auditors, A. Marcotte and T. Dubeau; and Rev. J. N. Jacques, chaplain.

After the officers were duly installed into office, Rev. Fr. Barrette, O. M. I., was called upon for a few remarks, and he spoke at length on the doings of the Union St. Jean Baptiste d'Amerique, and closed by calling upon each one present to join this great union.

Others who spoke were Rep. Henri Achin, Jr., Rev. Leon Lamothe, O. M. I., J. E. Perrier, Joseph Carrier, Pierre C. Gagnon and J. B. Blouin.

The program closed with musical numbers rendered by Miss Bella Lavigne, the well known musician, and Master William Blouin, violinist, who was accompanied on the piano by his sister, Miss A. Blouin.

Wagon and Car Collide

A baker's cart owned and driven by a man named Scorgodian ran into an Amover street car at the corner of Dutton and Market streets this noon. In the collision the driver was thrown from the cart, and received a bad scalp wound. His wound was dressed at St. John's hospital, where he received treatment.

The vestibule of the car was damaged and a pane of glass in one of the doors was broken.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Lowell Opera House

The attraction at the Opera House tomorrow night will be Raymond Hitchcock in the sensational musical play "The Red Widow," by Channing Pollock, Remondello Wiles and Charles J. Deleest, and presented under the direction of Cohen and Harris. Mr. Hitchcock appears in the play as Cleora Hannibal Butts, a retired millionaire corset manufacturer, who is making his first tour of Europe. While in London Mrs. Butts becomes an ardent suffragette and leaves her husband to make a trip to Russia alone. On the eve of his departure from London he meets a charming young woman who induces him to allow her to cross the Russian frontier on his passport made out to Mr. and Mrs. Butts. When the couple arrive in St. Petersburg, she reveals herself as a nihilist, and known to the police as "The Red Widow," while her desire to kill the czar. Butts tries to escape from his surroundings but is confronted with the widow's band of nihilists. The play is in three acts. The first takes place in the foyer of the Alcazar music hall, London. The second occurs at the third act is laid in the gardens of the czar's winter palace where a "white fet" is in progress. Mr. Hitchcock will be assisted by Flora Zabell as "The Red Widow" while the last includes Claire Grenville, Minerva Coverdale, Nan Brown, Gloria Gray, Theodore Martin, George E. Mack, George White, Edward Metcalfe, George Romain, Charles Prince, Stanley Fields, and a large chorus of singers and dancers and special orchestra.

JOHN DREW

John Drew—a capital acting company—a brilliant comedy, all about things everybody is now thinking about, comes to the Opera House, Jan. 23, in "The Perplexed Husband," a souffrette comedy. Mr. Drew has achieved the most emphatic success either he or any of his plays have known in the last ten years. Alfred Sutro is the author of the piece, which is in four acts. It is the first play by Mr. Sutro to be in this country since "The Wall of Jericho." Mr. Drew's company includes Miss Mary Holand, as leading woman; Miss Nina Savanah, Miss Alice Jehu and Miss Margaret Watson.

Keith's Theatre

New England's favorite actress, Miss Leigh De Lacy, will be the principal feature of the bill at the Keith theatre this week, appearing in a closely knit play called "The Boss." In this play the actual story is not at all apparent from the title, but having seen it, one is convinced that no other name could fit the little vehicle half so well. The theme is unusual. Miss De Lacy who has appeared here many times in a standard repertoire of plays will prove more than satisfactory in the principal role. And in her supporting company, as ever, will give to the minor roles the touches which are required to bring out the character studies. Martinetti and Sylvester hold the record for playing engagements in New York city. During the past four years these boys with the chairs have appeared not fewer ### than 50 separate engagements at the

Hannover theatre. The two men use but few stage properties, and these consist wholly of chairs and a table. Their ludicrous jumps over the chairs, their falls over tables and the comedy manner employed by Arthur Rigby, the former minstrel and singer of pleasing melodies, is in third place on this bill. Rigby is a name to conjure with. As a story teller he is wholly irresistible; no other quick approaches in him this particular. His make-up, too, is of the brand to cause positive signs of laughter when he first appears. Holmes and Hollister present a comedy sketch, of the very latest complications and one which has pleased fussy New Yorkers. While that is not a guarantee that will hold local audiences it nevertheless is taken as a good token by the managers. Johnson and Wentworth are singers of note and they run through some of the classic of latter day offerings. Deoley and Parker have an original comedy which will get under the ribs of auditors, and the Rosaries are smart witty performers with a fund of new things. Their comedy attachment to the act must be seen to be appreciated. Deoley, the juggling marvel, will open the performance with some recently invented combinations. This is an all new bill and one holding forth inducements to theatregoers to attend. It can be guaranteed as a sure-fire comedy combination. The box office telephone is No. 28.

The Playhouse

In George Onnel's interesting five-act drama, "The Ironmaster" which is to be presented by the Drama players, and under the personal guidance of Kendal Weston, at the Playhouse this week, the people of Lowell are being given an opportunity of witnessing one of the French writer's greatest works. The piece is a translation from his French book, "Le Maître de Forge," and is classified, in France, as one of the strongest and most successful of comparatively modern offerings. Kendal Weston made his biggest success in 15 years ago and there is every reason to expect that the Drama players will give genuine satisfaction in it. The first performance tonight. Tickets now on sale.

Merrimack Square Theatre

The capacity audiences which have witnessed the excellent bills of late at the Merrimack Square theatre if in attendance this week will not be disappointed by the week's presentation. It is headed by "The Little Girl," sketch of which there is nothing in vaudeville to surpass it and is followed by "The Fellow With the Green Umbrella" Haultin & Barrow a pair of clever singing comedians, and Anna & Henry LeLott complete the vaudeville list while the picture for the week were selected with extreme care and will prove to be among the best shown at Lowell's most popular theatre for months. Performances are continuous no matter what time one drops in there is always something going on.

The Tech Musicals

A very pleasing musical was given by the Tech Show Orchestra and Quartet of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, in Colonial hall, last Saturday evening. The audience, which could have been much larger, was an appreciative one and seemed to thoroughly enjoyed the varied program that was offered.

College musicals usually consist of selections by a pipe and mandolin club, but the entertainment of Saturday evening was an exception to this rule, since the orchestra was the most important feature of the performance. From their showing on this occasion it is evident that the orchestra is made up of competent and skilful musicians, who have been remarkably well trained.

A. M. Eisenberg, '12, was the concert

master, and the agreeable rendering of Nevin's "Love Song" and Greg's "Moravian Hymn," proved that he has a musical taste of rare discrimination. Many other orchestral selections of a lighter nature were given, and they were all pleasing to the audience.

V. M. F. Tallman was the soloist of the evening, and he earned considerable applause by his singing of "The Ravens" and "Oh, Dr. Maria." The readings of H. G. Wells, '16, were also well received by the audience.

THOMAS AND ELDORIDGE
In Main Bout Here Next
Friday Night

In compliance with the wishes of many of the members of the Lowell Social and Athletic club, particularly those who reside in the suburbs, Matchmaker Gardner has decided to put on three bouts this week. Heretofore four numbers were given, but as all generally went the distance, the show was late in being completed. Several times many were obliged to walk home. On next Friday night three matches will be staged and all look good from the road. In the main event Joe Thomas, formerly of California, but now a full-fledged resident of Lowell, and one of the cleanest fighters who ever pulled on a pair of mitts will clash with Hattling Gunboat Eldridge, a white hope from Boston. Eldridge is a big man, and while rather young at the game, has met a number of well known performers. He is said to have a wallop like the kick of a mule, and when he gets it over the referee generally counts ten over the other fellow. He is training for this week's bout and expects to cop. He is well acquainted with Thomas' reputation and realizes that a victory over Joe will bring him up with the good ones. Thomas started training last week and at present is in good shape. He will continue his daily work-outs and expects to be in the pink of condition by Friday. The bout is scheduled to go 12 rounds.

In the semi final of eight rounds, Henry Myers, of Charlestown, who several weeks ago received a decision over Tommy Doyle at the local club will meet Young Belmont of Lawrence. Myers has been at the game a number of years, during which time he has met some of the cleverest men in the country. He is fast and a hard hitter. He appeared at the club last week and informed the matchmaker that he is in great shape and that he will be fit for this week's bout. Belmont's reputation is well known and he can always be depended upon to put up a good exhibition. The preliminary bout this week ought to be one of the best ever given in Lowell. The principals are Young Cooney, Freddie Maguire's protegee, and Ed George. They appeared in one of the "prelims" last week and their offering was a hummer. The entire six rounds were fast and both showed remarkable speed. At the completion of the bout, a draw was announced. Both immediately requested that they be rematched. This was done and now both are in training for their second meeting.

CHANGES IN TAX SYSTEM
Recommended in New York by Mayor

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Radical changes in New York city's tax system, whereby nearly a score of new sources of revenue are proposed to help meet city expenses without increasing the burden on the rent payer have been recommended today by a special committee which he appointed to study this problem more than two years ago.

Some of the most striking proposals are taxes on the unearned increment of real estate, on public advertising signs on every horse-drawn vehicle, on automobiles double the tax now levied by the state and given half of the proceeds to the city and non-exemption of churches for local improvement. About $4,000,000 would be added to the city's income next year if the plan were adopted and in ten years the increase would amount to $16,000,000. The committee declared it favored abolishing the personal property tax eventually and placing the burden of local government on these forms of property which represent values created by the community.

DESCENT ON CRAP GAME
20 Escaped in Raid in Boston

BOSTON, Jan. 12.—"The Bridge of Sighs," as the passageway running from Society to Eberle Hall in Union square, Somerville, is called, furnished an easy means of escape for 20 young men, apparently trapped last night in the latter building by the police, who made a descent on a crap game that was in progress.

The raid was the result of a complaint made to the police by one of the players, who claimed to have lost a good sized roll of money. Chief Kenneth detailed Inspector Kennedy and Patrolman Daniel G. Simmons to get evidence.

Peer Through Keyhole

According to Society hall, which is on the third floor of the building known as the old Masonic building, and peering through the keyhole, the officers saw a number of young men engaged in the crap game. Other officers joined the party and it was decided to force an entrance into the hall. The hall is used by secret societies and the big outer door refused to yield to the shoulders of the police.

The noise at the door was a signal to the men on the inside that it was time to get under cover. The bridge is reached by opening a window in either Society or Eberle hall, and walking across. The police thought that they had the crowd secured in Eberle hall, but much to their surprise when they gained an entrance only four were found hiding. They were taken to the police station in the patrol auto and booked on a charge of being present. Hall was furnished for each.

Mystery in Escape

How the remainder escaped the police are at a loss to know. Some think that they made their escape down the fire escape while the police were gathering to surround the building. A number of overcoats were found in the room where the game was being played, but were not taken by the police. A pack of cards and two dice were captured by the police.

VICTORY FOR R. R. CLERKS
9 Hour Day and Raise of 15 Cents

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 12.—Succeeding weeks' active campaigning during which a strike was expected at any moment the nearly 3600 freight clerks of the New Haven road, including many women, were late Saturday night guaranteed concessions from the railroad company aggregating 50 per cent of their demands.

The most essential request was for a nine-hour day. They battled hard for this, but at the start were given to understand that this request was unreasonable and next to impossible.

The concessions number nearly 55, chief among which is a flat rate wage increase of 15 cents a day, which makes the weekly increase more than $1 for each person.

It is estimated that the minimum wage rate for clerks under the new regime will be fully $50 a month. Another significant concession is a two-weeks' vacation with pay to each clerk each year. The new rule covers every station on the system.

In selecting vacations the seniority rule will prevail.

Much of the credit for the outcome is given to Vice Grand Pres. James J. Forrester, who took up the matter, aided by the local committee, and represented the employees in the conference with the New Haven management.

McGinnity to Manage the Tacoma Team

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 12.—Joe McGinnity, long a conspicuous figure in baseball in the east, bade good bye to the fans here yesterday and is on his way to Tacoma, Washington, to take charge of the Northwestern league club there which he purchased recently. McGinnity was once a star of the major leagues and won the nickname of "Ironman" by his willingness to pitch double-headers. For several years he has had a large interest in the Newark club of the International league, which he sold last fall.

RAPID GROWTH IN EXPORTS

From United States to South America—Have Increased From $38,000,000 in 1902 to $138,000,000 in 1912

Exports from the United States to South America have grown from 33 million dollars in 1902 to approximately 148 million in 1912. The percentage of gain in the exports to South America is much greater than that in exports to any other grand division of the world. To Europe the exports in 1902 were 986 million dollars and in 1912 approximately 1,450 million, the figures for December being not yet available; to North America, in 1902, 204 million dollars and in 1912 approximately 573 million; to Asia and Oceania, in 1902, 96 million dollars, and in 1912, about 212 million; to Africa, in 1902, 36 million dollars, and in 1912 approximately 27 million; while to South America, in 1902, exports in 1902 were 351 million dollars, and in 1912 were approximately 128 million dollars in value. Thus exports from the United States to Europe have increased about 50% in the period from 1902 to 1912; those to North America, 175%; to Asia and Oceania, about 120%; and to South America, nearly 300%.

Turning to the other side of the account, the imports from South America show a gain in the period in question of a little more than 700%, the figures having been, in 1902, 160 million dollars and in 1912 approximately 239 million. From Europe the imports in 1912, from 314 million dollars in 1902 to approximately 385 million in 1912; from North America, from 113 million dollars in 1902 to about 371 million in 1912; those to Asia and Oceania, from 151 million dollars in 1902 to approximately 234 million in 1912; and those from Africa, from 124 million dollars in 1902 to approximately 24 million in 1912. Thus the percentage of gain in the imports from South America is also greater than that in imports from any other of the grand divisions, though not nearly so great as the percentage of gain in the exports to that section of the world.

Manufactures form the bulk of this rapidly growing export trade with South America. The value of manufactures exported to South America in the fiscal year 1912 amounted to 125 1/2 million dollars out of a total of 132 1/3 million, manufactures thus forming about 95% of the total exports to South America. Of iron and steel manufactures alone, the value of the exports to South America in 1912 was more than the value of all exports to South America ten years earlier. The figures for iron and steel manufactures exported to South America in the fiscal year 1912 having been $38,634,584, while the total exports of all articles from the United States to that grand division in 1902 was but $38,622,306. Among the other important manufactures exported to South America in 1912 were

Manufactures of wood (including lumber), $14,811,857; refined mineral oils, $12,544,566; agricultural implements, $8,685,031; cars, carriages, and other vehicles, $7,185,351; leather and manufactures thereof, $4,507,666; cotton manufactures, $4,144,604; and chemicals, drugs and dyes, $3,174,777.

The growth in our exports to South America occurs chiefly in the trade with Argentina, Brazil, and Uruguay. The exports to Argentina, which a decade ago amounted to a little less than $10,000,000 will for 1912 show a total of about 52 million; those to Brazil, which in 1902 were a little more than 11 million dollars, will for 1912 show a total of about 40 million; those to Chile, which in 1902 amounted to less than 4 million dollars, will show for 1912 a total of about 15 million; and those to Uruguay, which in 1902 were but 1 1/2 million dollars in value, will show a total of nearly 8 million dollars for 1912, the totals for the calendar year 1912 being in each case estimated upon the basis of eleven months' returns already tabulated by the statistical division of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

TWELVE FINED $3 EACH

Charged With Being Present at Game

ARRESTED IN RAID LAST NIGHT BY SERGEANT DUNCAN

Men Charged With Larceny Held For Superior Court—Assault and Battery Case Heard

There was the usual large Monday morning docket in the police court today and most of the prisoners were drunken offenders. The gallery was well packed with a very large gathering, presumably to gain a knowledge of the workings of the law.

Big Lineup

George Bratines, John Vaulgaros, Charles Rassias, George Stamapoulos, Coats Manos, Demitros Callopoulos, Constantinos Baroutsas, George Alfantis, Peter Petasis, Fapls Arvanitis, Vasilios Demetropoulos and Nicholas Ziavras went to make up the dozen who were called before the judge's bench this morning to listen to a charge of being present at a gambling game on the Lord's Day. They pleaded guilty and paid fines of $3 each. It was Sergeant Duncan who gathered them in shortly after 9 o'clock last night from a building at the corner of Market and Suffolk streets.

Held for Superior Court

George and Theodore Glatas, who have a charge of larceny against them for some time past, appeared this morning, and Judge Enright, finding probable cause declined jurisdiction. The men were held under bonds of $600 for the superior court.

Assault and Battery

George Bambas was brought in on a charge of assault and battery and the alleged victim failed to appear to further the charge. The arresting officer who was an eye witness gave testimony of the fact that the defendant struck the other man and Bambas was fined $5. He dug in his pocket and produced the required V spot.

Large Class of Drunks

There was a large number of drunken offenders and among them several for whom it was a debut. These latter paid fines of two dollars.

James P. Gilbride was arrested at the corner of Merrimack and Bridge streets on Friday night last, so the officer testified. He had been complained of by a man who said that the defendant entered his house and took therefrom a clock. Gilbride had the clock in his pocket when hauled in and it was quite evident that he was enacting upon some one else's time. He is on parole for the state farm and was sentenced to return to that institution. He appealed.

John Breen and Michael Kelly were fined $5 each for Sunday celebrations; John J. Clancy paid $5 for a second offense. Edward O'Haley was fined $5 as were Stephen Murphy and Joseph Gauthier. Ben McArdle was surrendered by Probation Officer Clattery and his sentence of four months in jail was affirmed. Dennis Curtin was under a suspended sentence to the state farm and his suspension was revoked and he went away. Ellen Hennessey was sentenced to serve three months in jail and John J. Molloy, whose mother, it was learned was in a dying condition, was placed in the care of the probation officer. Arthur A. Gay was sent to jail for a term of four months.

A short time ago William J. Griffin was placed on probation for a week in which to pay a fine. Mr. Griffin never appeared until today when he was committed until ready to pay. Half a dozen were released.

Gov. Wilson Returns Home

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 12.—Governor Wilson reached the state house from Chicago shortly after nine o'clock this morning, prepared to devote most of the day to state business.

He accepted an invitation to the luncheon today given by the Democratic committee to the New Jersey electors and promised to make an address.

STEAMER RAN ASHORE

Freight Vessel Herman Winter Grounded

BOSTON, Jan. 13.—The freight steamer Herman Winter, which left for New York late Saturday night, ran ashore on the spit inside of Nix's Mate at midnight, during a thick fog. She remained hard and fast until shortly before 3 yesterday afternoon when nine tugs succeeded in floating her at high tide.

The vessel went ashore stern on, and at low tide the entire stern and the propellers were showing out of the shallow water. The bow was headed toward Boston as though the craft was bound in, instead of going out. The officers refused to make a statement and it could not be learned how the vessel went ashore in such a manner.

MOTHER AND SON DEAD

Mrs. Maria and William C. Coombs Stricken With Pneumonia—Mother Died Saturday and Son Died Sunday

LISBON FALLS, Me., Jan. 12.—Stricken with pneumonia, Mrs. Maria Coombs died Saturday night at midnight, and her son, William C. Coombs, died yesterday morning.

Mrs. Coombs was born in Lisbon 74 years ago, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Gould. She was the widow of John H. Coombs. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Cornelia Fessenden and Mrs. Mary Hoills. She was a member of Pioneer Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star.

Her son, William C. Coombs, was 47 years old, and had been ill less than 24 hours with pneumonia. He began business as a tailor, but of late had been in the real estate business.

Liner Had Wild Time

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Battered by a succession of storms, the French liner La Provence reached here yesterday from Havre with almost all her loose deck equipment swept away or damaged. Huge seas frequently flooded the decks and her 500 passengers were forced to remain below during much of the trip. One big combor tore away a section of deck and badly splintered other sections, and two big cable reels weighing a ton each were wrecked loose and swept along the decks.

ANCIENT IRISH FEIS PRESENTED

MISS JULIA O'DONOGHUE, GAELIC VOCALIST

By Gaelic League of Ireland at Associate Hall—Program to be Repeated Tonight

The three envoys of the Gaelic league of Ireland, Fionan McCollum, Donald O'Connor and Michael J. O'Connor, appeared before a large audience of Irish people in Associate hall last evening and told of the work that the Gaelic league is doing toward the revival of the Irish language, Irish industries, games and pastimes. The meeting was the first "Feis" to be held here and it is to be an annual affair.

There was also an interesting group of Irish dancers, singers, pipers and storytellers.

Mayor O'Donnell presided and introduced Mr. McCollum by telling of the great work Ireland was doing in her effort to save her ancient language from extinction.

Mayor O'Donnell's Remarks

"We are assembled this evening to participate in a modern revival of a very ancient festival inaugurated by Ollamh Fodla, and right, or high king of Ireland, about 800 B.C.—the Tura Feis. The word 'feis,' meaning parliament, convention or festival, the original feis was a meeting of the governing body which made the laws. Beside discussing the affairs of state the feis included

SKULL WITH HOLE IN IT

Ghastly Discovery by Boston Boys

BOSTON, Jan. 13.—A skull having a small hole in the temple, thought by the police to have been caused by a bullet, was found by Frank Williams of 2151 Dorchester avenue, and several other youths, in Churchill Hollow, on the grounds of the Convalescent Home of the Boston City hospital, off Dorchester Lower Mills yesterday. The discovery gave rise to the rumor that murder had been committed.

A detail of police were sent to the locality and a thorough search was made for further evidence. The skull was brought to the station at Field's Corner, a big crowd gathering in the locality to get a glimpse of it as two policemen carried it into the station.

Medical Examiner Timothy Leary hurried to the station, intending to institute a searching examination. Young Williams and the other lads were detained to enlighten the medical examination.

Dr. Leary looked at the skull, which lay on the table in the guard room, for about a minute. Then he smiled and said:

"I guess some medical student has been playing a prank. That hole in the temple wasn't caused by a bullet. It was bored there with a Bradawl, the evident purpose being to suspend it with a wire."

If some medical school didn't take it, the skull will be used as a tobacco jar by the bluecoats at the police station.

REMARKABLE SUCCESS OF A NEW PILE TREATMENT

Introduced less than six months ago, over 1500 New England Druggists now recommending, Selling and Guaranteeing the English Hemorrhoid Treatment

It usually requires years to successfully introduce a new, untried article, but sometimes a product of real merit obtains a foothold with unexpected suddenness.

A few months ago, when a representative of the English Pharmaceutical Laboratories of New York, presented to the druggists of this city a new, entirely different treatment for hemorrhoids (piles)—the druggist said "No, we have all the pile remedies we want—there are now too many on the market."

But when the character of the new treatment was explained, most all dealers gave that exceptional products had been offered and they did not hesitate long in buying.

Bishop Raps Gambling

BOSTON, Jan. 13.—The Rt. Rev. Charles D. Williams, bishop of Michigan, speaking at the afternoon services at St. Paul's cathedral yesterday, declared that there was no spectacle more degrading, more abject, than a man with a will in him, hanging breathlessly upon the throw of the dice, the dealing of the cards, the running of a horse, the whirling of a wheel, the sway of a game or the fluctuations of the stock market.

The men that were meant to master fate, he declared, by such actions voluntarily surrendered their power and became abject weaklings of appetite.

Millerand Quits Cabinet

PARIS, Jan. 13.—Alexandre Millerand, who won a reputation at home and abroad as a great war minister, resigned from that office yesterday. M. Lebrun, minister of colonies, was named to succeed him, and M. Bismarck, Under Secretary of Finance, replaces M. Lebrun.

The ministerial crisis was the direct outcome of the reinstatement of Lieut. Col. de Lattre de Tassigny in the French Territorial Army. With the election of president occurring on Friday next, the political situation has become greatly confused, with indications pointing to a stirring week.

Couple Overcome at Fire

BOSTON, Jan. 13.—Samuel Gorringe and his wife Dora had a narrow escape from death by suffocation at their home, 142 Broadway, Chelsea, early yesterday morning. A fire which broke out in their store filled the premises with thick smoke. The couple occupied a room off the store. Patrolman John E. Parsons discovered the fire. He broke into the store and found the couple unconscious from the smoke.

Aided by the fire department and Patrolmen McKenzie and McQuauley, the couple were quickly removed and revived. The fire started in some clothes under the counter of the store. The fire loss was $100.

LIVE WIRES AND MACHINE TEAMS

WON MATCHES
Lamson Rapids Defeated Lamson Machines and Mt. Groves Won From
Lincoln-Saco

There were two games played in the Heinze-Cartridge league Saturday night, one of which was close and exciting while the other was so one-sided that it proved to be anything but interesting. The game between the Live Wires and Testers was a walk-over for the former team which won all four points with comparative ease taking the game by a margin of 123 plus. Coughlin of the winning team was high man with a triple of 302 and his best single was 122. Although the scores in the game between the Magnetos and Heinze Machine were not large the game was close and well contested, the Heinze Machine winning the game by a margin of four points. None of the bowlers was able to reach the century mark for a single.

High scores were in order in the game between the Lamson Rapids and Lamson Machines, each team winning two points. The bowling of Stewart of the Machines was the feature of the game.

The game between the Mount Groves and Lincoln resulted in a victory for the former team.

DR. SIMPSON CONFERS WITH MAYOR
RELATIVE TO BUILDING HOSPITAL

Mayor Receives Letter Requesting Information Anent Charter--School Masters to Meet Wednesday

Dr. C. E. Simpson of this city, district inspector for the state board of health, is in receipt of a letter from the state board of health relative to an isolation hospital in this city. Consequently he conferred with the mayor this morning as to the possibility of the city erecting such an institution, and also to find out if possible the attitude of the council in reference to the city co-operating with other surrounding towns for the erection of the said institution. The mayor's reply was that his impression is that the council will take steps in the near future toward the erection of a hospital and he felt they would favor allowing nearby towns to send patients to the hospital, providing they paid for their treatment.

Requisition
Commissioner Barrett has made requisitions for the fire department for a carload of oats and one of straw, and he is also asking for 10,000 feet of one-inch galvanized iron pipes for services during the year.

How is the Charter?
George B. Burd, chairman of the committee on printing of the New York state senate, himself of Buffalo, N. Y., is seeking information relative to the new form of government in this city and accordingly he has sent a letter to Mayor O'Donnell, asking the latter to furnish him with the desired information. In the course of his letter he states that the Buffalo people have been endeavoring for two years to have a new charter in their city without success. Each time the bill has passed the senate, but failed in the assembly. He said the movement is repeatedly confronted by statements of failure elsewhere of the new form of government, and he also asks our magistrate to answer the following questions:

10--What is the attitude of the majority of your people toward the commission form as compared with the existing charter, and is there any disposition to return to the old form?
20--Is it generally conceded by your people that the city government is more efficient and more economical?
30--What chief advantage would you specify as resulting from the adoption of the commission plan?

Civil Service Examinations
City Messenger Monahan was notified this morning that on Friday, Jan. 17, civil service examinations will be held at city hall for the following positions: 47 clerks, 26 janitors, and 6 foremen; 79 positions in all. The foremen were sent by Joseph J. Kelly, chief examiner.

Hearing
At 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning Mr. Holman of the State Industrial accident board, will give a hearing at city hall in the alderman's chamber.

Act to be Presented
Commissioner Cummings of the lands and buildings department, who has charge of the Lowell public cemeteries has had the following act drawn by the city solicitor and the same will be presented to the legislature for adoption:

An act to provide for the exclusive appropriation of all revenues and moneys accruing to the city of Lowell from and on account of public burial grounds.

Section 1. All revenues and all moneys accruing to the city of Lowell from and on account of public burial grounds, shall, when collected or paid into the city treasury, be carried to an account, to be known as "The Public Burial Grounds Fund," and all such revenues and moneys shall be exclusively appropriated to the use of public burial grounds.

Section 2. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 3. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Masters to Meet
Supt. Molloy of the school department has sent out notices to the various school masters of the city for the semi-annual meeting which is to be held on Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the superintendent's quarters at city hall.

The committee on finance of the school board will hold a meeting on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

STOCKS ACTIVE
AT THE OPENING TODAY--COPPER SHARES WEAK
Downward Trend Continued After Opening--Market Suffered From Severe Bear Drive

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.--Virtually the whole list sold off at the opening of the stock market today. The copper shares were only more the weak features. Amalgamated lost a point and Utah Copper, Canadian Pacific, Reading and Lehigh Valley.

Prices continued to slide a trifle downward with the exception of the copper shares, which remained heavy and acted as a drag on the market.

Bear operators made the most of the downward trend of copper metal prices and attacked the copper stocks, in which speculation has been concentrated recently, owing to the opportunities for trading afforded by their wide fluctuations.

Western railroad stocks sagged slightly but soon broke loose from the influence of the copper group. Coal shares, particularly Lehigh Valley, were heavy. The street kept in close touch with Washington news owing to the chance that the supreme court might hand down its decision in the Minnesota rate case.

Bonds were easy. Further postponement by the supreme court of the long-awaited decision in the Minnesota rate case was regarded unfavorably and was followed by active selling for both accounts.

There was also liquidation in the telegraph and telephone stocks on reports that an investigation would be made of recent combinations. Losses ranged around a point in most of the active stocks. Lehigh Valley and Lead yielded 1/4, American Telephone 2/4, Canadian Pacific and Western Union 1/4, and Amalgamated 2 points.

Unrestrained liquidation in the metal stocks produced a general feeling of pessimism and the whole market suffered from a severe bear drive. United States Steel sold to 5 1/4, the lowest in a long time and some of the important railroad stocks were driven down several points. Lead lost 3/4, Lehigh Valley 1/4 and Amalgamated 3 points.

The market closed weak. Liquidation increased and active weakness was visible in all quarters of the list. Lack of support for market leaders, especially steel, encouraged bear aggression and there was a considerable shaking out of weakly margined accounts. Losses ranged from one to five points, with the copper group displaying the most weakness.

Money Market
NEW YORK, Jan. 13.--Prime mercantile paper 2 1/4. Sterling exchange steady at 63 for 60 day bills and at 45.50 for demand. Commercial bills 45.25. Bar silver 63 1/2. Mexican dollars 45. Government bonds heavy. Railroad bonds heavy.

Time loans easier; 60 days 1; 90 days 1 1/4; six months 4 1/4.

Nature Doesn't Put an Orange in a Tin Box

The orange skin is a better covering for an orange than a tin box! The natural leaf wrapper is a better protection for tobacco than a tin can, cloth bag or wax paper.

Man can't beat Nature.

This natural protection by a leaf wrapper is possible only in plug tobacco, into which all the natural flavor has been pressed. The real, natural flavor of tobacco depends on keeping all this original moisture in the plug. So from Master Workman plug you can get the sweetest and most satisfying smoke.

Don't forget this: chopped-up, sliced or granulated tobacco must dry out. Dry tobacco bites the tongue. But when you cut each pipe-load fresh from a plug of Master Workman, you get a cool, sweet smoke. Get a plug of Master Workman today and prove this yourself.

YAWNS AND JAW DROPS

Yawned Again and It
Went Back

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.--Johnnie Burke's jaw dropped out of joint again yesterday morning. It did not go back on him until after he had eaten a big breakfast with generous trimmings, but that was little consolation to Burke, who felt he was peevish for the mug of coffee still waiting to be drunk.

Burke, who is 32 and lives at No. 3232 Hull avenue, the Bronx, is a clerk at the American Express company's stables at East Forty-third street. His jaw has picked up a habit of dropping out of joint. He never can yawn, but out goes his jaw. As he works nights and gets sleepy, he says this is beastly awkward.

About 4:30 a. m. Burke sent a chauffeur to get him a breakfast from a Third avenue restaurant. An hour later he was feeling so comfortable he forgot himself and yawned. And, of course, he dislocated that jaw.

The other employees, seeing him dancing around, unable to speak, but trying to get into the position in which the jaw will slip back into place of its own sweet will, called in Patrolman McNulty, who sent for an ambulance.

When Dr. Fisher got Burke to the Flower hospital that playful jaw was recognized. The last time it was in the operating room was recalled. It took several hours' hard work to get the jaw back into place on both sides. One side always jumped back out as the other went in.

"Just you try to yawn and try hard," said Dr. Fisher.

Burke loosened his suspender, threw out his hands and tried. Just as the jaw reached its best, bang! in went the jaw on both sides, evidently taken unawares or misled. The surgeons at once gripped it and held it in place until it could be put under the restraint of bandages. Then Burke was sent home.

"And you look here, don't you do any more yawning," said Dr. Fisher.

A DISTINGUISHED UNDESIRABLE

Cipriano Castro, former president of Venezuela, has been spending an unhappy week on Ellis Island. He sought to enter this country under an assumed name, but government agents had kept him under close observation upon the other side, and his name was known as soon as he landed. Of course the case of General Castro is entirely out of the ordinary, for he is not an undesirable citizen in the common understanding of the term. He was virtually forced to abandon his office in Venezuela and flee from the country under pressure of the United States government, and for that reason there is no inclination to treat his case lightly now, especially when political conditions in Venezuela make it reasonable to believe that he has less desire to travel in this country than to plan another revolution from this point. His country once all but invaded the United States in a foreign war, and has twice since called for diplomatic intervention under the Monroe Doctrine. Consequently our state department is justified in taking measures that will preserve its own interests as well as the peace of the little republic.

Castro has had a turbulent career. He was born in 1853, his parents being Spanish members of the present class. He entered politics as soon as he could vote. He won his first battle when he was 31 years old. He fought with Anzueta against Crespo, who rebelled against the government in 1892, and defeated the latter at Turbia. Crespo eventually won, however, and became president, whereupon Castro removed to Colombia and became a cattle rancher. When Andrade succeeded Crespo, Castro returned and paid him an official visit. It was not satisfactory, and Castro fled under an order of arrest. He started a revolution with only 60 men but at the end of three days had a force of 1000. He won a series of battles, entered the capital, and proclaimed himself supreme military leader. Eventually he was elected president, and ran the country to suit himself, though there were frequent uprisings. He amassed a great fortune, which he secretly banked in Europe, where he has been living of recent years. Now he has become tired of his holidays and wants to return to politics. But he has chosen the wrong route by which to do so.

MR. MUNSEY'S ARGUMENT

The plan, advocated by Frank A. Munsey for the consolidation of the progressive and republican parties, to the end that the democrats may be defeated at some future time, has not been very cordially received by the leaders of either faction. Mr. Munsey's argument itself is open to question upon several points. He claims that Mr. Wilson will be a minority president because he received less votes than did Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt combined. From this he argues that the majority of voters did not want Mr. Wilson, and that he would not have been elected but for the split in the republican ranks.

Woodrow Wilson would have been elected in any event. There has not been an election in recent years where the conditions were more involved, but there could have been but one conclusion. Suppose, for example, that Mr. Taft's nomination had stood, with no progressive candidate in the field. Would the latter have accepted the situation? Not at all. There would have been a landslide to Mr. Wilson. Or suppose that the electoral had captured the Chicago convention after a bitter contest. Would the old-line republicans, who had fought him for weeks, contrarily make his calling and election sure? They would have voted for the other candidate if for no other reason than to have prevented his election.

As to the analysis of the vote of the two defeated candidates, both Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt claimed democratic support in several states, owing to local conditions, but such a line-up would not have held had only the regular party nominations been made. Thousands of progressives voted for their candidate in the states where their party was strong because they believed that he would be elected, but their second choice was unquestionably Mr. Wilson. It is folly then to say that the latter is a minority candidate. Were a poll of the whole country taken today it would show beyond dispute that he is favored by a majority, whether or not they voted for him in the recent presidential election.

THE LOWELL DELEGATION

The Boston Herald remarks: "As the Lowell members go to the leadership of the caucus poll." And every other Boston newspaper has discovered that there is a Lowell delegation in the legislature since the battling for a senatorial candidate began in the republican camp. The conduct of this fact is obvious. If the members from Lowell and the surrounding towns will stand together this year, they can easily put the Spaulds City upon the political map again.

The democracy of Lowell has obtained good representation during the past two years, so that the republican influence had been practically wiped out, even when there was a republican governor and a republican majority in the legislature. The reason was that the members of these and some other districts were not in the legislature. There are many members in whose politics we are not sure, and where all the Lowell members

Seen and Heard

Speaking of heroes, we read about a dozen of them who attended a dance the other evening. No, the hall didn't catch on fire, and they didn't scorch their hair dress suits in their brave endeavors to rescue fair maidens. But, they danced with the fair maidens, and that means a lot when you consider that the dozen men were the only representatives of their sex in a gathering of two thousand females. Let's see, how many is that to each man? One hundred and sixty-six and two-thirds. However, the heroes had one consolation—it wasn't leap year.

Here's good luck to General Rosalia Jones, the valiant suffragette lady, who is soon to lead another march, this time to Washington. We hope the weather man will be more lenient than he was when the famous hike was taken along the banks of the American Rhine.

Helen Frisk gave a theatre party the other evening to two hundred of her friends. It must be nice to be rich. Whenever we feel like entertaining, we have our best friend to a select performance at Keith's, and there we get as good as money can buy.

Population of the United States is now put at 95,456,000. Total money in circulation per capita about $55. Lots of folk haven't got their $55 just at this moment. Some agree sharply also reckon that about fifty-five persons have $56,456,000 each in New York. Well, they couldn't have it in a place where they would need it more.

Winter's icy grip is still missing, but the other kind, which is needed with hot mustard baths, makes one feel as if he had been run through a stone crusher and that a Chinese orchestra was playing ragtime in his head—that kind is doing business right here.

The woman whose silver cat won a prize at the show insisted that most cats at this age a girl becomes a debutante, but the exhibitor whose Angora took second honors said that even if a cat has nine lives it seldom lives more than sixteen or seventeen years. They decided to settle the argument by consulting an authority, and when they met again the woman who started it said she knew all about cats. She told her friend that there are seventeen veteran cats on record who have lived eighteen years, and that one sturdy puss has survived since 1850 in the home of a parson in the Norfolk parish of England. Red and sand-colored ones live longer than any others.

"Take my seat," said the red-checked little messenger boy with a bow to the little shopgirl as he got up from a place in a Merrimack square car. And the big man with the tall, thin, far coat, who had been the youngest's neighbor, unfolded his newspaper so he couldn't see the two old women who were hanging on straps right in front of his seat.

TOASTS

Here's to the woman with many a care,
Who sits all day in an office chair,
And at night, when her day's work is through,
Goes home and finds more work to do.
Gets up in the morning and cooks and scrubs,
And scurries around with laundry tubs;
Yet the usual hour finds her smiling there,
Beside her desk, in the office chair.
If she's strong enough to take these burdens to
And to the states where they let her vote!
—Minnie C. D. Smith, in Judge.

Oh, some get on by labor, in a patient plodding way,
And some succeed by cleverness in what they do or say,
And now and then a great career some body will begin
By close attention to the gentle art of "butting in."
How well we all recall the boy at school who made a hit
By bowling out the answer when another started it.
He drowned the real student's voice with swift and noisy duds,
And got a lot of picture cards because he "butted in."
Fate equalizes things until a share of chance remains,
For sheer presumption in the race with honest brow or brains.
The world's a stage, and some prize some "dark horse" will often find Because he recognized the time and place for "butting in."
—Washington Star.

STEEPLE TOP BLOWN OVER

Prevented From Falling in Westboro, However, By Rope—Had Been Saved Off
WESTBORO, Jan. 13.—The top of the steeple in the First Congregational-Unitarian church, which workmen started to take down Saturday, was blown over by the high wind yesterday afternoon, but prevented from falling by an inch and a quarter rope attached to a beam extending from the steeple.
When the upper section of the steeple, which was sawed off 15 feet from the top Saturday, was allowed to remain in position after being tightly fastened, was blown over, it hung point downward and for some time looked as if it might fall and crash through the roof of the church.
Many people watched the unusual sight.

Lawful to Call Man an "Ass"

ZURICH, Switzerland, Jan. 13.—It is lawful in Switzerland to call a man an "ass," according to a decision given by the Federal tribunal here today. The court therefore declined to award damages in a suit arising out of a quarrel between two citizens, both locally prominent.

Sells Whiskey For Pie

CONNEAUT, O., Jan. 13.—It cost Sig Hahn, a Conneaut druggist, $1400 to sell out an ounce of whiskey to a woman who came into his store a few days ago.

The woman, a dry detective, asked for enough whiskey to make mince pie, and the druggist complied. The detective at once swore out a warrant for his arrest.
Hahn was tried on four counts and pleaded guilty to each, being fined $100 on each count. He was also assessed $500. Down-Alken tax, by the state.

ALICE AND MAY

Alice: "I see by the papers that May or Duane of Waltham is a practical suffragist."

May: "How's that?"

Alice: "Why his motto is: 'Jobs for Women,' and he has started out by appointing a woman superintendent of buildings, and another principal assessor."

May: "How horrible!"

Alice: "Why, May, what do you mean by such an expression? I think Mayor Duane is perfectly lovely to recognize our sex in such a nice way."

May: "That's all right about recognizing the sex, but suppose you were superintendent of buildings and were up at the health department stable job, and with a bunch of male employees about, and the wind blowing sixty miles an hour: 'Miss Alice, go up the ladder after that head-carrier and see if the work is being done right.' Would you do it? Or suppose you were riding down Merrimack street with him in his new Studebaker and it stopped right in the Square, would you get out and crank the machine?"

Alice: "But Mr. Cummings is too much of a gentleman to ask such embarrassing things. I am confident that if I were superintendent of buildings, he would climb the ladders and crank the machine for me. He'd have to do it anyway, because I'd faint if I climbed a ladder, and I don't know the first thing about cranking an auto,—why, I can't even turn on a steam-heated radiator. But I wouldn't be a candidate against Frankie Connor under any circumstances."

May: "I guess neither of us would be suited for a job like that, Alice. I wonder what the poor Waltham lady will do? Perhaps she is what you might call an honorary superintendent,—she'll sign papers, while a mere man does the hazardous part of the work. Surely no woman's education ever included the construction of sky-scrapers or the fire-proofing of tenements."

GOT STUCK IN CHIMNEY

Man Failed as a Santa Claus

NEWBURYPORT, Jan. 13.—Early yesterday morning the police were called upon to rescue John Lucey, aged 20, who essayed to do a Santa Claus act at his home on Caldwell's court and got stuck in the chimney in the attempt.

Lucey had some trouble with one of the police officers shortly before that time and the officer told him that he would take him to the station if he did not go home. Lucey started for home, but had considerable to say, so that the officer followed him a part of the distance.

Lucey imagined that the officer was still following when he reached home, and so, on going into the house, he went upstairs, thence to the attic, climbed out through a skylight and worked his way along the ridgepole to the chimney, which he mounted and slid down, fortunately for himself feet first.

It is one of the old-fashioned chimneys, divided into several parts, and as Lucey went down he got switched into a flue and stuck about on a level with the floor of the second story.

All desire to get away from this imaginary pursuer left him at this time and he called lustily for help. The police were heard by the members of his family, but they were powerless to help him and they summoned the police.

Several officers responded, and it took an hour's work to release him, and that was accomplished only by the use of picks and crowbars, as the officers had to tear away the bricks of the chimney, they being able to locate him by his cries and groans.

When he finally got out he was a sight, being covered with soot from head to foot. He did not appear to be injured any by his experience, so the officers took him to the police station, where a charge of drunkenness was put against him.

Lucey has but one arm, having lost the other about two years ago by falling under a train as he was attempting to get off. He had been released from the hospital only a few days ago, having served a term for drunkenness.

COLLINS DIES OF INJURIES

Dorchester Man Run Over By a Dray Passes Away—Driver Placed Under Arrest

BOSTON, Jan. 13.—John Collins, 70 years old, of 35 Everett street, Dorchester, who was run over by a heavy dray on Broadway, South Boston, Saturday night, died at the City hospital yesterday morning. Last night Frederick A. Waterman, the driver of the dray, was arrested on a charge of manslaughter. He will be arraigned in South Boston today.

Witnesses of the accident say that Collins, while standing on the sidewalk with his back to the street, suddenly became dizzy and fell backward just as the dray was passing.

PROFIT BY THIS SALE

As We Profited in the Purchase

A month ago anticipating an advance on Bureaus, Chiffoniers and Commodities, caused by the ever increasing price of lumber, glass and other materials entering in their manufacture, and finishing, we bought another carload, nearly 200 pieces—making a second carload in two months. (This gives you an idea of the tremendous business we are doing in our new store.)

As we anticipated the price has advanced 10 per cent. Now do a little figuring and you will see why you should anticipate your wants and buy at once and here.

Take a Bureau that the manufacturer sells in dozen lots for $100.00. The dealer now will have to pay $110.00 and the freight from the factory of $1.00—making it cost him $121.00 landed in Lowell.

By buying when we did and by the carload we bought them for $100.00 less 10 per cent. delivered in Lowell, making the cost to us $90.00 for what cost the other fellow $121.00. Here is a concrete example and fact why we can sell you Bureaus, Chiffoniers and Commodities for what they cost the average dealer.

Now Here is Another Reason

Why you should buy here and now. As we advertised last week: The roof of the car leaked and damaged as far as we could see about 64 pieces. We advertised these at a discount of 1-3 to 1-2 and sold them all in one week. But in unpacking others to fill orders for perfect ones, we have come across one now and then with slight damages. As we want to make a final claim on the carload company for the damage, we have decided To Offer the Entire Carload at a Discount of 20 Per Cent. on Perfect Goods.

And if we come across any other damaged pieces, we shall sell them at 1-3 to 1-2 less, according to damage.

We've been selling clothes for a good many years, and in our judgment the suits that we advertise today are the best that we've ever shown—and they should be—for these suits to pay even a fair profit had to be sold for $30, $35, $38 and $40.

ACCUSED MOTHER IS ILL

Mrs. Wells Requires Attention of Physician

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Jan. 13.—Mrs. Anna May Wells, confined in the Franklin county jail, charged with murder of her two young children, is ill. The confinement and trouble are telling upon her.

She requires the services of a physician.

Woman Is Courageous

Disclaiming illness, Mrs. Wells declares to all inquiries that she is full of courage and hope, though languishing for her children. She lies down for several hours each day. The guards understand that these are fits of weeping.

On Saturday her mother, Mrs. Enoch Ladue, visited Mrs. Wells for the first time. She presented her daughter with little remembrances. The mother and daughter settled down to family talk.

It was decided that Mrs. Wells should be supplied with cloth and work basket so that she might pass her time making clothes for her children at home.

Her husband, Harry Julius Wells, the husband, is devoting his full time to the defence of his wife. He has become a veritable detective, assisting their attorney, Stephen

THE WOMEN'S NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC LEAGUE ELECTS NEW OFFICERS AFTER LONG WRANGLE

OFFICERS OF THE WOMEN'S NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC LEAGUE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—There was considerable politics in the meeting of the Women's National Democratic League in this city. Mrs. J. S. Crosby, of New York, the oldest president, failed for re-election, being succeeded by Mrs. Stephen B. Ayres, the wife of a New York congressman. Mrs. H. T. Scott, in nominating Mrs. Ayres, said Crosby, Mrs. J. Charles Linthicum, that President Eliot Wilson had in- dored the wife of the New York con- gressman for the post. Mrs. Crosby presented this statement and declared that Mr. Wilson would not interfere in the matter. The officers shown in the picture, from left to right are: Mrs. Ayres, Mrs. J. S. Crosby, Mrs. J. Charles Linthicum, Mrs. William A. Cullop, wife of Representative Cullop of Indiana; Mrs. Robert L. Henry, wife of Rep- resentative Henry of Texas, and Mrs. Ayres, the new president. Mesdames Henry, Linthicum and Cullop are vice presidents.

LOWELL MUSICIANS' ASSOCIATION HELD MEETING

Officers Were Installed
Yesterday Afternoon

A varied musical program was rendered and there were speeches galore, some of the members of the association giving a brief sum- mary of their work in the respec- tive departments during the past year.

Over 200 Guests
Present

The installation of officers was private, this being held in the early part of the afternoon, and at the close of the ceremony the doors were opened and a large number of guests were escorted into the room. The association orchestra under the leader- ship of Emil J. Borjor, the talented violinist, rendered the following program: March, "Spirit of Independence," Holyman; Overture, by Supper; "Pink Lady," and several other fine selections.

President Richard A. Griffiths occupied the chair, and after an introduc- tory speech in the course of which he advocated more municipal concerts during the summer months, he spoke at length on the association and its doings and related how it was organized a few years ago by Messrs. J. H. Hibbard, Nathan Lewis and Percy Bur- leigh, and the progress it has made since. He said there were now 150 members in good standing and a sub- stantial treasury of over $1,000.

Mayor James E. O'Donnell and Com- missioners Lawrence Cummings and Andrew E. Barrett also spoke and they dwelt particularly on the doings of their departments at city hall during the past year. They also promised that the question of more municipal concerts would be given a fair deal when the appropriations for the year are made at the meeting of the council. They closed by saying a few good words in favor of the association and wishing the latter many more prosper- ous years. Other speakers were Nathan Lewis, a charter member of the association and now of Boston; R. F. O'Rourke, Supt. Richmond Ward; Thos. McGuire, Hon. Joseph H. Hibbard, John J. McInerney, and Charles E. Anderson. Refreshments were served and a splendid afternoon was enjoyed.

The officers installed were the fol- lowing: President, Richard A. Griffiths; vice-president, W. A. Owen; secretary, Thomas Higgins; financial secretary, Robert Whalen; board of directors, J. F. Connors, Frank Mc- Carlin, William Kennedy, John McCaf- fery, Joseph Mullin, Elliot Wood, Alfred Cooney, John Payne and George Clark.

The report which was read by the secretary was accepted as progressive and several suggestions were received. The following new names were added to the membership roll: Edward Burns, Dr. J. J. McCarthy, Jr., Lucien Brunelle, Walter Kelly, John Brennan and Leo Fanny. Mr. O'Neill announced that a meeting of the committee in charge of the night before Lent social and dance would convene to make arrange- ments for this event and to elect officers.

President, James E. Gilligan; vice-president, James F. Flanagan; record- ing secretary, Thomas Higgins; finan- cial secretary, Robert Whalen; board of directors, J. F. Connors, Frank Mc- Carlin, William Kennedy, John McCaf- fery, Joseph Mullin, Elliot Wood, Alfred Cooney, John Payne and George Clark.

day, January 14, in the Y. M. C. I. hall and a committee of ten was appointed to make arrangements for this event. The ladies' nights which have already been held by the institute have proven very successful and have in every case enjoyed large attendances.

At yesterday morning's meeting seven delegates were chosen to attend the St. Patrick's day convention of all the Irish Catholic societies in Iller- nian hall in the afternoon.

A committee of five was chosen to consider the advisability of arranging a tournament of games with other Catholic organizations and they will report at the next meeting of the in- stitute.

Remarks for the good of the society were made by several of the members and officers and following the business meeting an entertainment of music was enjoyed by the members.

FINE PAID BY VICTIM

MARY ROMALICKO, of Pawtucket, Cut by a Barber, Agrees to Square His Accounts With Law

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Jan. 12.—For as- sault on Mary Romalicko with a knife, inflicting a cut in her hand, Boleslo Bagelville, a barber at the house of the woman, 62 Sherman street, was fined $20 and costs in the district court.

A strange feature of the case was that the woman agreed to pay his fine.

Find Body Petrified

CONNESVILLE, Ind., Jan. 12.—When a vault in Laurel cemetery, south of here, was opened to receive a body, it was found that the body of Mrs. Mary Myles which had been placed there 15 years ago had turned to stone. The features were as perfect in outline as when placed in the tomb.

12,000 PLAN TO STRIKE

The Garment Workers in Boston May Quit

BOSTON, Jan. 12.—Boston is facing a general strike of the 12,000 garment workers of this city.

At a mass meeting held at Faneuil hall last night it was stated that demands would be presented to the cloak, waist and skirt manufacturers next Thursday or Friday.

These demands will call for an increase in wages, sanitary shop conditions and the abolition of the "sweat shop" and employment of minors under age of legal employment.

2000 at Meeting

There were over 2000 men and women crowded in the hall and they cheered the remarks of their leaders. President James T. Moriarty of the Boston Central Labor union declared that if a strike must come the allied trades stood ready to back the garment workers to the limit.

Miss Mabel Gillespie, secretary of the Women's Trade Union League, addressed the women workers. She said that if a strike is to be declared she would guarantee that the women would fight as well as the men, and would be found in the picket lines up to the last minute.

Benjamin Horn, business agent of the Joint Board of Ladies' Garment Workers of Boston, presided. He said in opening that word of a general strike in the women's garment workers had been intimated and the meeting was to define whether such a step is necessary and to discuss what could be done to avert such action.

Mayor London, attorney for the International Ladies' Garment Workers, brought word from New York that the big strike involving 150,000 workers in that city was progressing favorably. He stated that it would be necessary for the workers in this industry to organize in Boston. He said that the salvation of the industry rested on this foundation.

Mobile Occupation

In explanation he said that the manufacture of women's garments was at best a mobile occupation, because of the small amount of machinery used and the small room necessary in comparison with other large industries. For this reason, he explained, it would be easy to move the factories from New York to Boston, therefore making it imperative that all the big cities adjacent to New York should organize.

At the close of the meeting circulars and application blanks about 1000 in number were circulated and the work of organization began.

FOSS PLAN IS THE BEST

Solution of R.R. Problem, Says Whitney

BOSTON, Jan. 12.—In a letter from Henry M. Whitney to Governor Foss, which was made public last night, Mr. Whitney upheld the statements of Governor Foss in his inaugural address in regard to government ownership of railroads and declared that such ownership is fraught with the greatest menace to industries and social welfare.

He assured the governor that the latter's proposal of state representation in the railroad directorates, based upon the obligation of the commonwealth to purchase stock, would accomplish every result possible.

Mr. Whitney stated that the only thing necessary for the solution of the railroad problem is for the public and the railroads to get together, and declare that the governor's plan offers a basis for the settlement of the question throughout the country.

WHITE SLAVE AID FUND

John D. Rockefeller, Jr. Gives $10,000,000

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has set aside $10,000,000 in bonds, little of which has not passed as yet, for the purpose of establishing the Rockefeller foundation, a charitable institution, the one and only object of which will be to rescue women of the tenderloin, give them decent homes and place them in lucrative positions where they will be self-supporting.

Complete in Detail

Stanley O. Finch, chief of the United States government bureau of investigation, will be in active charge of the entire work, with the exception of the finances, which will be under the control of Mr. Rockefeller and his associates.

Home for Consumptives

Another feature calls for the establishment of a home for consumptives at Denver. To this home not only consumptives, but women weakened by other diseases, will be sent until they are cured or die. The cities in which the homes are to be established have not been named, with the exception of Boston and Philadelphia, where it is virtually certain large homes will be established.

So far has the plan progressed that Mr. Finch, who has had charge of the suppression and investigation of the white slave traffic for the government, has been making a personal investigation of the qualifications of the under investigators in this department in an effort to pick out 15 of the best of them, who will be put in direct charge of the investigation and in the cities where the homes are to be established. These men first will investigate the qualifications of the women who will be taken from the resorts and placed in the homes.

According to persons who know of the aims and ambitions of Mr. Rockefeller, it is not his idea that the red light districts can be stamped out entirely, but he believes they may be contracted considerably through the contraction of the material from which the investigators see prospects of making good women.

Mr. Rockefeller got his idea after close study, following the time when he was foreman of the New York grand jury which investigated the white slave traffic. After much study, Mr. Rockefeller has come to the conclusion that the white slave traffic cannot be stamped out unless some provision is made for the women of the tenderloin. His solution is the $10,000,000 fund.

2500 PEOPLE HOMELESS

Heavy Losses Caused by Floods

CINCINNATI, Jan. 12.—The Ohio river passed the 60-foot stage here yesterday and continued to rise steadily at the rate of two inches an hour. In the lower parts of the city and in Dayton, Newport and Covington, suburbs across the river in Kentucky, 2500 persons have been made temporarily homeless by the invading waters.

In the Kentucky towns schoolhouses and churches have been thrown open and are filled with refugees. The property loss will reach into the thousands.

Cincinnati commission merchants and warehouse owners whose places of business are along the river front have suffered heavy loss. Hundreds of cellars have been flooded and in some buildings facing the wharves the water is up to the second story.

The Pan Handle and the Louisville & Nashville railroad freight houses are half buried in water and all trains running into the Grand Central station are being enroute into the city.

The flooded streets along the river on both the Ohio and Kentucky sides were filled with rowboats and launches all day carrying out refugees and their belongings. Steamboat traffic on the river has been practically abandoned, the water being so high that many of the boats are unable to pass under the upstream traffic.

The Licking river, which divides Newport and Covington, and flows into the Ohio opposite Cincinnati, is out of its banks. Many factories along the banks of this river have been put out of commission by the flood.

The government forecaster predicted yesterday that the rise would continue for 30 hours, assuming a cessation of rain.

MATHEWS TO CELEBRATE

31st Anniversary Exercises on Thursday

The Mathew Temperance Institute holds its regular weekly meeting yesterday morning in Mathew hall, Dutton street. Three members were admitted to the society and three new propositions were received. President John J. Guthrie presided.

The committee of five which was appointed at the last meeting to bring in a committee of twenty-five to have charge of the annual Easter Monday party reported that the allotted number have been secured and the first meeting of the completed committee will be held next Sunday.

The anniversary committee reported that all arrangements were completed for the observance of the thirty-first anniversary of the society which will take place next Thursday evening, Jan. 16th in Mathew hall. The committee in charge of this affair has secured speakers of national reputation to deliver addresses on that evening and the members have also arranged an excellent variety of musical program to be given during the evening.

After the entertainment the floor will be cleared for dancing which will be enjoyed until 12 o'clock. The exercises will start at 8 o'clock.

Admittance to this affair will be by tickets which will be distributed by the members of the committee to their friends. Tickets will also be distributed by the M. T. I. Hatcher girls who will receive them at their regular meeting tomorrow evening.

NASHUA WAS SPOTLESS

Lid Shut Down Tight Yesterday

NASHUA, N. H., Jan. 12.—Nashua was the spotless town yesterday that Police Commissioner Harry A. Gregg is apparently trying to make it.

He succeeded, for one day at least, with the shadow of 61 indictments hanging over the heads of city officials and others and rumors of many more to follow.

Nashua had the lid down tight yesterday, tighter than on any day since Commissioner Gregg led his raid of last spring, the first ever made by a police commissioner in Nashua.

Pastors Praise Gregg

In nearly every one of the churches yesterday, the indicting of city officials on serious charges was alluded to and Commissioner Gregg praised. He is given the full credit for the cleaning up, although he has said that he is but one of the men who are behind the movement.

"And some of them are more zealous in it than I am," said Commissioner Gregg.

Who the others are is the subject of much comment. Many citizens are mentioned but not one of them has come to the front publicly, so that to the public Commissioner Gregg stands alone as the sponsor for the biggest raid and the longest list of indictments ever secured in Nashua.

At least three others are being mentioned around the streets as involved in the cases, but none of the names have been brought officially into the matter.

Commissioner Gregg has hinted that some of the most important of the cases would be held for the legislature to act on and it is the common talk that when the cases come before the legislature the names of two of them will be brought out.

Travel of $500,000

One of the topics that is being discussed is what became of a five hundred dollar bill which went from the hand of "William Sullivan," the detective who posed as a sport, when he had made "arrangements" to open a poolroom. In whose hands it finally rested and how it was divided, if divided, are matters of deep interest just now.

Showing how easy "Sullivan," the detective sport, caught many of those indicted on the simpler charges, one of the defendants said to a reporter yesterday: "There were four of us having a little 25-cent limit game. Sullivan dropped in when we were playing. We knew him and he sat in for a while. Now all four of us are indicted."

Kept Open House in Poolroom

The opening up of the poolroom by "Sullivan," and how he got to run it almost openly is likely to have a decided bearing in the cases. He paid $50 a month for a room, gave away many chips for the poker games to allow "friends" to sit in a game and generally kept open house there for "the boys."

It is claimed that, in connection with that room, he had dictagraph records at hand and arranged so that photographs could be taken of the room when it was beneficial to his case. There many prominent men were to be found daily up almost to the time when the grand jury sat last week. Since then they have disappeared and there is much worry in some circles as to what the photographs will disclose.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—The barn on the 1st Bailey farm in the town of Newcastle, N. Y., owned by Mrs. Geo. Creel, better known as Blanche Bates, the actress, was burned yesterday with its contents, including the actress' auto and many of her wedding presents.

Mr. and Mrs. Creel are in Denver. The Oshington Hose Company took their chemical engine on the uphill journey to the farm, three miles from Ossining, and prevented the spread of the flames to surrounding buildings.

PARADE ON MARCH 17 VOTED SAYS INDICTMENTS ARE VOID ONE GIRL ATTENDS TEXTILE

James J. McManmon Elected Marshal by Convention

The annual convention of the Irish Catholic societies of Lowell was held in A. O. H. hall yesterday afternoon, and the body voted unanimously to parade on St. Patrick's day.

At 2:45 o'clock the delegates from 19 organizations were called to order by Mr. Daniel Cosgrove, who made a brief but appropriate speech.

The societies represented were the following: Divisions 1, 2, 4, 11 and 13 of the Ancient Order of Hibernians; St. Michael's Holy Name society; St. Patrick's Holy Name society; Immaculate Conception Holy Name society; Sacred Heart Holy Name society; St. Margaret's Holy Name society; Wolfe Tone Guards; Neagh Guards; Sheridan Guards; Y. M. C. M. T. L. B. B. B. Temperance Institute; Catholic Young Men's League of St. Patrick's church; Irish National Foresters; United Irish League.

Upon the motion of one of the delegates to have a roll call it was found that the number of those present was 117.

JAMES J. McMANMON, Chief Marshal.

Chairman Elected

The first business to come up was the election of a chairman of the gathering and Mr. James J. McManmon was elected to fill that office. Mr. John V. Donoghue was chosen as secretary and by unanimous vote of the convention these officers were made permanent. Mr. Donoghue has already served in the capacity of secretary for several years.

Mr. McManmon was accorded an enthusiastic welcome as he was escorted to the chair, and Mr. Cosgrove, who declined re-election, was given a rising vote of thanks by the members.

Mr. Donoghue then read the minutes of last year's convention, giving an excellent detailed report of the event and paying a fitting tribute to the committee which had charge of the arrangements. On that occasion, a set of resolutions had been drawn up protesting against the celebrating of the 100 years peace with England and copies of these were sent to prominent men in Congress. In this regard letters were read from Speaker Champ Clark, Congressman Butler Ames, Henry Cabot Lodge and Senator Murray Crane. All were commendatory of the spirit in which the resolutions were made, and the replies of these high officials were for the most part favorable. Mr. James Cavan of the Irish National Foresters arose and in a brief address complimented the committee and also Mr. Donoghue, who had labored so earnestly to have them put into shape for the men at Washington.

By a unanimous vote, the delegation from the United Irish League, which up to this time has not taken part in St. Patrick's day, was given a seat in the convention yesterday afternoon.

Mr. John Hickey was unanimously re-elected treasurer of the convention, a position he has filled with credit for many years. Mr. Hickey was detained at home by illness, otherwise he would have been in attendance at the meeting.

Chairman McManmon then called for suggestions regarding the St. Patrick's day observance, and President Patrick McCann of Division 27, Ancient Order of Hibernians, arose and made the motion that the Irish Catholic societies of Lowell celebrate St. Patrick's day with a parade. The motion was seconded with loud applause, was immediately seconded and unanimously carried.

Chief Marshal Chosen

The next business was the election of a chief marshal for this event, and Delegate Francis J. McManmon, who was in his nomination speech he paid a glowing tribute to Mr. McManmon. There were no further nominations and it was unanimously voted to instruct the secretary to cast one ballot for Mr. McManmon as chief marshal. In a few words, the latter thanked the delegates for the honor which they had forced upon him and said that he would exert every effort to make the parade on St. Patrick's day worthy of such a gathering. The Irish Catholic organizations of Lowell comprise more than 16,000 men on their membership rolls, he said, and with such a number all should unite to celebrate in a most fitting manner the feast day of the patron saint of Ireland.

Committee Named

It was voted to have nominated from the floor a committee containing a representative from each organization present and the following were chosen:

Div. 1, A. O. H.—Daniel E. Hogan.
Div. 2, A. O. H.—John J. Murphy.
Div. 3, A. O. H.—John J. Murphy.
Div. 4, A. O. H.—John J. Murphy.
Div. 11, A. O. H.—John J. Murphy.
Div. 28, A. O. H.—Patrick McCann.
Wolfe Tone Guards—Captain Patrick Fitzgerald.
Neagh Guards—Captain John J. Higgins.
Sheridan Guards—Captain Thomas Daly.
Immaculate Conception Holy Name Society—Daniel E. Hogan.
St. Patrick's Holy Name Society—Charles R. Griffin.
St. Margaret's Holy Name Society—James F. Hennessy.
Sacred Heart Holy Name Society—Thomas J. Lynch.
St. Michael's Holy Name Society—John J. Haviland.
Catholic Young Men's League—John J. Ginnivan.
Young Men's Catholic Institute—Jeremiah F. Connors.
Matthew Temperance Institute—Peter P. Brady.
Burke Temperance Institute—Patrick J. Mahoney.
Irish National Foresters—Charles Shanley.
United Irish League—Dennis Brazill.

The above named committees will hold a meeting in the room on Monday, January 20. It was also voted that the name of the secretary be added to the above committee. This body in conjunction with the chief marshal will have charge of the arrangements for the parade on March 17.

A committee of five known as the committee on programs was also elected and comprises the following: Edward Fitzgerald, P. J. Kierce, Captain Thomas Daly, Captain John J. Higgins and Thomas Fitzgerald.

The meeting was adjourned shortly after four o'clock and the convention will meet again on Sunday afternoon, January 26.

ATTACKED BY REBELS

Americans Had Narrow Escape in Vera Cruz

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—A. H. Lawrence, manager of an American-owned hacienda near El Potosi, Vera Cruz, escaped unhurt when that property was attacked by rebels, according to a report received today by the state department from Consul Keadah at Vera Cruz. Mrs. Lawrence also escaped with her husband. The identity of the American sugar manufacturer who was killed while attempting to defend his property was not learned.

ROCKEFELLER EXAMINED

Physician's Report Not Made Public

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Dr. C. W. Richardson, who examined William Rockefeller at Miami for the house money trust investigating committee to determine if the millionaire was physically able to give testimony has made his report. Chairman Pujo will make it public until after it has been presented to the full membership of the house banking and currency committee. It is understood, however, that Dr. Richardson found Mr. Rockefeller suffering from the ailments described in affidavits filed with the committee by his physicians, as "acute inflammation of the larynx" which had necessitated his operations. Dr. Richardson will testify regarding his examination before the committee tomorrow.

LAWRENCE NIGHT

The Catholic Young Men's League held a special meeting at their rooms yesterday to make arrangements for "Lawrence Night." The affair is to take place on Thursday evening, Jan. 30, and is to be a reception to the Catholic Young Men's association of Lawrence, N. J., which is coming to Lowell in the preparations, the coming event will be a singularly successful one.

The Lawrence guests will be entertained with a concert, a tournament of games and members of both societies and general dancing. Refreshments will also be served during the evening.

The members are urged to invite their young women friends to Lawrence night. Next Sunday, January 27, a meeting will be held to complete arrangements for the affair.

The following members were chosen to serve on the committee:

Indian Charged With Murder

MAINE, Jan. 12.—Albert Strickland, an American Indian, was arrested today on the charge of killing Alfred Battisore, a British subject, by stabbing him with a knife.

Proceedings Against Mellen and Miss Catherine Feindel is the Only One of Her Sex in Class of 800

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Counsel for President Mellen of the New Haven road filed a plea in statement in the United States district court today, asserting that the recent indictments of the three railroad men, President Mellen, E. J. Chamberlin, president of the Grand Trunk, and Alfred Smithers, chairman of the Grand Trunk board, were void, violated and nullified because one of the grand jurors was a resident of Jersey City. He gave the grand juror's name as Albert Stephens. Argument on plea will be heard on Friday morning. Mellen did not appear in court today, but was represented by John C. Linn.

The plea of abatement halts all proceedings until the validity of the indictment is established. The government will either answer the charge of Stephens' non-residency or file a demurrer. In either case it will take weeks, perhaps months, to decide the matter, and it may be necessary to go before a jury.

Mr. Linn said that in behalf of his client he would carry the fight to the United States supreme court if necessary. His plea, as filed today, alleged that Juror Stephens was and has been for some time a resident of Jersey City, though formerly a resident of New York. The indictments in question were returned by the federal grand jury for the southern district of New York and, according to counsel, under the law all the jurors must be residents of this state.

Messrs. Mellen, Chamberlin and Smithers were indicted for alleged violation of the criminal clause of the Sherman anti-trust law. Mellen and Chamberlin entered pleas of not guilty and had until today to change their pleas.

The federal grand jury which has been investigating the "transportation" in New England with a view to determining whether the New York New Haven & Hartford is in itself a monopoly resumed its inquiry today. It is the same committee which returned the indictments against Mellen, Chamberlin and Smithers, and notwithstanding today's developments Mr. Stephens continued as a member of the jury.

One of the witnesses heard was H. O. Nickerson, general manager of the New England Steamship Co., which is controlled by the New Haven.

Miss Catherine Estelle Feindel of Chelmsford is the only girl in the Lowell Textile school, where there are over 800 students. She is the second girl to attend the school since it was founded in 1898.

Miss Feindel, who is 20 years old, has been enrolled in the classes of the Textile school since 1910, and finishes her course at the end of the present term in June. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Z. Feindel of Chelmsford, and was graduated from the Chelmsford high school in 1910.

The course of textile designing is the one thing taken by the lone co-ed. There are probably less than a score of women fabric designers in the United States, and Miss Feindel hopes to find a large field in which to work upon graduation.

Speaking of her studies, she says: "I always liked art work. Textile designing will give me opportunity for it. I liked it from the start, both the work and the school, though it did seem strange at first. But now I feel perfectly at home, having been here over two years. I shall finish next June and shall be sorry in some ways to leave here."

"The studies in textile designing here are like a college course, as they include everything relating to the work one is to take up in the end. In the textile designing course we have cloth analysis, weaving, warp preparation, textile calculation, mechanical drawing, wool and cotton finishing and mathematics."

"When I get through here I hope to go into the office at some textile mill or in the city office of some mill corporation and practise the designing I am now studying."

EMPIRE OF OIL LANDS OFFICERS WERE INSTALLED

Worth Half Billion Discussed in Court

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—An empire of oil lands worth probably more than half a billion dollars was the prize which brought a group of opposing lawyers today before the supreme court. The occasion was the argument of what reply the court would make to a request for instruction from the United States circuit court of appeals for the ninth circuit which was unable to decide whether the Southern Pacific R. Co. or Edmund Burke and other separate entrymen were entitled to valuable tracts of land now said to be gushing forth oil in California.

The railroad company has received patents to the land. The government recently brought proceedings to have the patents cancelled but that question is not before the court. The patents contained a provision, excepting all mineral lands from the grant. This is the provision which now furnishes the principal contention.

Mr. Burke and those in a similar position claimed that the provision prevented the land from passing to the railroad and that they are entitled to the land under the proper entry. The railroad contends that the exception is void, and that evidence cannot be produced to show the lands are "mineral" or oil lands, the government having issued a patent to them and no fraud having been practiced upon it. Primarily the Southern Pacific railroad alone is concerned in the present controversy but the same exceptions are contained in patents to practically every land grant railroad traversing the west and so all will be affected by the decision.

Thomas Talbot Conclude Met

The regular meeting of Thomas Talbot conclude, No. 105, Knights of Sherwood Forest, Foresters of America, was held at Liberty hall on Princeton street yesterday. One application was received and passed over to the committee for investigation. The principal business of the meeting was the installation of the officers for the year 1913. The installing officer was Sir Knight William A. Kelly, supreme deputy, and suite. The new officers are: Commander, James M. Hogan; vice commander, Michael Grady; pastmaster, William Kelly; adjutant, Albert McDougall; sergeant major, John Barrett; first lieutenant, Michael McCallen; second lieutenant, Thomas Moss; first sergeant, James Ready; second sergeant, Arthur Trainor; sergeant at arms, Jerome McCallen; trustee for three years, John McDougall.

A report of the auditors showed the conclusion to be in great condition financially. A vote of thanks was extended to Past Commander Sir Knight William A. Kelly and a committee was appointed to secure a hall and make all arrangements for the national convention, which will be held here next August. The Sir Knights expect to see many Foresters of America guests of the Knights of Sherwood that week. After remarks were made by Sir Knights William A. Kelly, Hogan, Moss, McDougall and Trainor, a buffet lunch was served by the steward of the conclude, Sir Knight O'Grady.

THREE COUNCILS UNITED IN THE INSTALLATION EXERCISES

Ceremonies Were Quite Interesting—There Was a Large Attendance

The three local councils of l'Union St. Jean Baptiste d'Amérique held a joint installation of officers yesterday afternoon, the affair being held at the Notre Dame de Lourdes parochial school in Middlesex street, under the auspices of Laval council. The other councils taking part in the ceremony were J. N. Jacques and Carillon, and the presiding officer was Pierre A. Brousseau of J. N. Jacques council. While the installing officer was J. E. Perrier of Lynn, an official of District Council No. 4.

The ceremony was largely attended, and proved very interesting. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion and speeches and an entertainment program were rendered after the different officers were installed.

The exercises started in the morning, when all the officers to be installed attended high mass at 10:30 o'clock at Notre Dame de Lourdes church in a body. The celebrant at the mass was the pastor, Rev. Leon Lamotte, O. M. I., while the sermon, an appropriate one for the occasion, was delivered by Rev. J. B. Barrette, O. M. I., chaplain of Laval council. The choir under the direction of Mr. H. A. Racicot rendered Turner's St. Jean Baptiste mass. Miss Alma Alexander presided at the organ. The Zenaves, a semi-military organization composed of young boys of the parish, were in attendance in their full regalia.

At the close of the mass the officials repaired to the home of Mr. Joseph Lussier, 25 Grand street, where a dining dinner was served, followed by a reception. At 2 o'clock the party returned to the hall, where the ceremony was held.

Pierre A. Brousseau called to order and in a few words explained the purpose of the gathering and in behalf of Laval council welcomed those present. He then introduced Mr. Joseph E. Perrier of Lynn, who installed into office the following officers:

Carillon, No. 169: Honorary president, Frederic Desrosiers; president, Joseph Carrier; vice president, Laurier Tremblay; recording secretary, Jesse Alexander; assistant recording secretary, Alfred Leclerc; treasurer, J. O. Morin; collector, Louis Asselin; medical examiner, Dr. H. S. Billemeur; marshal, Joseph Tremblay; master of ceremonies, Joseph Hardy; visitor of the sick, Mathias Pelouquin and Rev. Aquila Gratton, O. M. I., chaplain.

NEW STORE IS OPENED

In Sun-Building by United Cigar Stores Co.

The formal opening of the new store of the United Cigar Stores Co. in the Sun-Building, at the corner of Merrimack and Prescott streets, Saturday, attracted thousands of people and during the day and evening there was a steady stream of people entering and leaving the store, and many words of admiration were expressed at the elaborate and artistic interior of the place.

It is one of the finest cigar stores in New England and has the finest location in the city. It is very easy of access, there being four entrances. Entrances are at 2 and 6 Merrimack street, 9 Prescott street and from the main corridor of the Sun building. The United Cigar store was opened at 3 Merrimack street in this city about three and a half years ago, but the patronage of smokers was so large that it was necessary that new and larger quarters be secured. Ever thoughtful of the smoking public and anxious to secure the best locations in every city the company upon learning of the erection of the Sun building immediately entered into negotiations for the corner.

Of the four large plate glass windows in the store, three are used for a display of pipes, cigars, cigarettes, tobacco, premiums and various other articles. As one enters the store, however, he realizes that no expense was spared in fitting out the place. All of the furniture and trimmings of the interior of the store are of mahogany, the show cases and display closets being of the latest design. Revolved glass is used in the show cases. The floor is made of minute tiles and the finish of the ceiling and walls is in keeping with the handsome fixtures.

A new departure in the installation of a handsome soda fountain, one of the finest in this vicinity. In the south many of the United Cigar stores dispense soda but the local store is the first of the company's stores in New England to install a soda fountain. The fountain is known as the "Innovation," and is manufactured by the American Soda Fountain Co. It is made of attractive marble, the large slabs being of white Italian marble, while the trimmings are of verd-green marble. In the rear of the soda fountain are hand carved decorations with various-colored leaded glass.

Another thing which is new in the operation of the store on Sunday. Owning a handsome soda fountain, one of the finest in this vicinity. ## WORLD FAMED EXPLORER

Capt. Amundsen Who Discovered So. Pole

WILL BE AT OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT

Under Auspices of the Women's Middlesex Club—Banqueted With Peary in New York.

No one should miss the opportunity of hearing Capt. Roald Amundsen, the discoverer of the South Pole, who is to lecture at the Opera House this evening. The lecture will be illustrated with moving pictures and beautifully colored slides taken at different points on the expedition.

Capt. Amundsen arrived in New York on Friday and attended a banquet given by the National Geographical society, at which he and Admiral Peary sat at the North and South Poles, figurative speaking. It is interesting to note that Amundsen is now making extensive plans to take a trip to the North Pole.

Lowell has welcomed Peary and Nansen and Greely in the past, and has thus heard stories of polar exploration told by the master explorers. Now comes this chance to hear about the discovery of the world's last unknown place. Capt. Amundsen speaks English fluently, so that his story is sure to be interesting aside from the pictures.

This opportunity is offered to the people of Lowell through the enterprise of the Middlesex Women's club, and they wish it distinctly understood that the lecture is open to the public. A large number of people should turn out to hear Capt. Amundsen, whose achievements have made him one of the great men of the world.

PRES. MAHONE TO SPEAK

At Tonight's Meeting of Local Carmen

The local members of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America will have the honor of the presence of President Mahone of that body at a meeting tonight at Runnels hall. Among others, the mayor of the city will speak, and Fred Fay, one of the international organizers will be present. Special cars will come from Lawrence, Nashua, Haverhill, Woburn, Reading and Chelsea. There will be an entertainment after the speaking.

Typographical Union

Lowell Typographical union, No. 320, held a regular meeting yesterday afternoon at the rooms in the Runnels building. The president presided at the meeting. Secretary Fred A. Spauld report showed that the finances of the organization are in a very favorable condition.

The president's report that a new five year agreement had been negotiated between the union and the English newspapers in this city was the feature of the meeting. As the agreement in question assured the members of the union, a good increase in pay. The gates to other unions also read their reports. It was announced that Edward M. Martin, the New England organizer of the International Typographical union, will visit Lowell this week, to inspect trade conditions here.

Mass. Electoral Votes Go to Wilson

BOSTON, Jan. 13.—The election of electoral votes of Massachusetts were thrown today for Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey for president and Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana for vice-president. George M. Harlow of Haverhill, a member of the college, was chosen to carry the result to Washington.

Ceremony at Notre Dame de Lourdes School

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—An empire of oil lands worth probably more than half a billion dollars was the prize which brought a group of opposing lawyers today before the supreme court. The occasion was the argument of what reply the court would make to a request for instruction from the United States circuit court of appeals for the ninth circuit which was unable to decide whether the Southern Pacific R. Co. or Edmund Burke and other separate entrymen were entitled to valuable tracts of land now said to be gushing forth oil in California.

The railroad company has received patents to the land. The government recently brought proceedings to have the patents cancelled but that question is not before the court. The patents contained a provision, excepting all mineral lands from the grant. This is the provision which now furnishes the principal contention.

Mr. Burke and those in a similar position claimed that the provision prevented the land from passing to the railroad and that they are entitled to the land under the proper entry. The railroad contends that the exception is void, and that evidence cannot be produced to show the lands are "mineral" or oil lands, the government having issued a patent to them and no fraud having been practiced upon it. Primarily the Southern Pacific railroad alone is concerned in the present controversy but the same exceptions are contained in patents to practically every land grant railroad traversing the west and so all will be affected by the decision.

Thomas Talbot Conclude Met

The regular meeting of Thomas Talbot conclude, No. 105, Knights of Sherwood Forest, Foresters of America, was held at Liberty hall on Princeton street yesterday. One application was received and passed over to the committee for investigation. The principal business of the meeting was the installation of the officers for the year 1913. The installing officer was Sir Knight William A. Kelly, supreme deputy, and suite. The new officers are: Commander, James M. Hogan; vice commander, Michael Grady; pastmaster, William Kelly; adjutant, Albert McDougall; sergeant major, John Barrett; first lieutenant, Michael McCallen; second lieutenant, Thomas Moss; first sergeant, James Ready; second sergeant, Arthur Trainor; sergeant at arms, Jerome McCallen; trustee for three years, John McDougall.

A report of the auditors showed the conclusion to be in great condition financially. A vote of thanks was extended to Past Commander Sir Knight William A. Kelly and a committee was appointed to secure a hall and make all arrangements for the national convention, which will be held here next August. The Sir Knights expect to see many Foresters of America guests of the Knights of Sherwood that week. After remarks were made by Sir Knights William A. Kelly, Hogan, Moss, McDougall and Trainor, a buffet lunch was served by the steward of the conclude, Sir Knight O'Grady.
